

IT IS not so long as to be beyond the memory of some of us when communication with Hawaii was by sailing ships. There was no cable and the people of the Islands knew what was going on in the world and such small part of the world as cared knew what was going on in the Islands only by the slow and rare messages of these ships. Life was idyllic, with both the advantages and disadvantages of that state. Then came the steamboats with more rapid and regular transportation, and the transformation of the life and industry of the Islands by the development of sugar and pineapple culture and the importation of armies of Oriental laborers. The news of the outside world even then was a week apart and at least a week old. Finally, came the cable. While the cable was being laid, the cable ship once a day called up the shore and sent out a brief message of progress, together with a weather report. It was a new thrill in the lives of most of us actually to receive news from the middle of the ocean. The radio has since made that commonplace. Now come the air flights which put Honolulu and San Francisco only a day apart and the sense of distance and isolation is removed from these once "dream Islands" of the mid-Pacific.

HOWEVER, even in the oldest days Honolulu and San Francisco were always sister cities. When the forty-niners came to California, American civilization had been established in Honolulu for practically thirty years, and the Hawaiian Islands, even by sailing vessel, were the most available source of civilized supplies. The early miners ate Hawaiian potatoes and a little later sent their children to the Punahoa School in Honolulu for education. In reciprocity the graduates of that school now largely complete their educations in the University of California. When the Hawaiian Islands were annexed to the United States, there were serious proposals to make them a county of California, but very wisely a territorial government was established instead. Long generations of contact and acquaintance have thus established California and Hawaii as conscious brothers and Californians will, even more enthusiastically than the rest of the world, welcome the exploits of this summer which have made us even closer neighbors in distance and in feeling.

TWO Belgians have arrived in New York with what they claim is a secret concerning the one subject which is always news; they have a process for making wine out of water, sugar and the secret ingredient. Since the ingredient in question comes in small tablets and water and sugar are neither expensive nor contraband, much joy is expressed in thirsty circles in the eastern metropolis. If a guess may be permitted, it is not unlikely that the "secret" substance consists of a little tartaric acid and some essential oils and flavoring substance. You can make an exceedingly potent beverage now out of sugar, water and yeast properly fermented, but the product requires more courage than most people have to consume it, and if the proper flavoring is added to bring it within endurance, the bootleg market will doubtless absorb it greedily. It will be no worse than most of the present products, and if a little mystery and some free advertising (of which this is a part) are added, no doubt there will be some who imagine they have made a discovery. The only safe advice is amuse yourself reading about it; but don't try to do it. The result in small doses will doubtless be less than fatal, but repentance the next morning will be abundant.

CLAIRE WINDSOR,
BERT LYELL PART

HOLLYWOOD, July 14.—The most "happily married" couple in the screen colony have parted for good and divorce appeared to be inevitable today.

Claire Windsor and Bert Lytell, screen stars, were expected to reach a property settlement at a conference scheduled to be held with their attorneys today, following which Miss Windsor probably will sue for divorce.

"Incompatibility" is expected to be the basis for the suit.

They were married in Juarez, Mexico, in 1925 and were believed to be "ideally mated."

"COOLIDGE LUCK" REMAINS WITH PRESIDENT OUT WEST

(By United Press)

RAPID CITY, S. D., July 14.—The saying "Coolidge Luck" has become a proverb out here where the president has established his summer White House.

When it hails in the fields beside him, Mr. Coolidge in an open car is untouched; when it rains there is no downpour near him, and when other fishermen have bad luck he hooks 10 trout.

The proverb has become so famous that townspeople here are using it as a byword and say:

"Let's go with President Coolidge and keep out of the rain."

The story started when some time ago Mr. Coolidge left the executive offices shortly before hail the size of tennis balls beat down upon the

ONLY RELIEF HELD OUT IS IN MID WEST

Estate of John B. Cox to Be Shared Equally by Widow, 4 Children

The will of the late Justice John B. Cox, nationally famous local jurist, was declared void and the $25,000 trust created under it was set aside when Superior Judge Homer G. Ames handed down his decision late yesterday in the contest brought by a daughter of Judge Cox, Mrs. Mary Cox Emerson, of Paulina, to break the will.

Judge Ames, who has had the case under advisement for some weeks, ruled that the legal objections to the trust were valid, and that the will, among other things, created a perpetual trust.

The Cox estate, under the will, was placed in trust with the Orange County Trust and Savings bank, of Santa Ana, to be held during the lifetime of the widow, with the income or whatever portion of it was necessary for her support, payable to her. At her death, it was provided that the estate should be distributed to the bank in trust for the four children, the trust being payable to these heirs at the rate of $25 per month to each of the four.

New York and New Jersey FREAK STORMS HELP Thermometer Reaches 95 In Boston and Capital Of Nation Wednesday

(By United Press)
NEW YORK, July 14.—More than 60 deaths were caused in the United States by the two day heat wave, which continued unabated today throughout the east. Approximately 12 of the deaths were due to drownings or lightning. The remainder were attributed directly to the heat. The west and middle west had found some relief today from heat and freak storms, but promised showers had materialized only at few points in the east.

Deaths recorded in the 24 hours ended shortly before noon today included:

New York and New Jersey, Chicago 10, Philadelphia 5, Buffalo 2, Detroit 2, Baltimore 3, Ohio 10, Pennsylvania 5, Morgantown, W. Va., 2, Schenectady, N. Y., 2, Walsenburg, Colo., 2, Albany, N. Y., 1, Syracuse, N. Y., 1, New London, Conn., 1, Clifton, Mass., 1, West Virginia 3, Erie, Pa., 2, total, 65.

Most of the east continued to suffer today under extreme temperatures and high humidity, with the only hope of relief held out by weather forecasters in the promise of possible showers later in the day.

Boston, New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington, Pittsburgh and other cities were suffering intensely. A high of 95 was reached in Boston and Washington and 91 in New York.

Relief came to the midwest today after a cooling rain. A freak storm in Colorado ended a period of high temperature there.

The majority of deaths occurred in metropolitan New York and nearby New Jersey. Nine were attributed directly to the heat. Three were drowned and Ignatz Mestrski, overcome by heat while walking on the railroad tracks at Perth Amboy, N. J., was killed by a train.

Before relief came to Chicago, 10 had died there. The other deaths came from points in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, and other eastern states.

Two Belgians have arrived in New York with what they claim is a secret concerning the one subject which is always news; they have a process for making wine out of water, sugar and the secret ingredient. Since the ingredient in question comes in small tablets and water and sugar are neither expensive nor contraband, much joy is expressed in thirsty circles in the eastern metropolis. RUSSIA for the moment seems quiet again but the situation can easily bear watching. Dictators have always followed the advice of Machiavelli to stir up foreign trouble whenever the situation became precarious at home. The Bolshevik dictatorship in Russia is not particularly in danger on the purely political side. It has suppressed enemies within its own ranks and intimidated any possible Russian opposition outside of its own ranks. But politics and business are not separate things in Russia and a business crisis therefore means a political one. The compromise experiment of half communism established by Lenin in 1921 has reached its end. The system has exhausted its inheritance capital and has found it is unable either to recapitalise itself out of its own resources or to obtain that capital by foreign loans or investments. It must, therefore, either make further concessions to capitalism in order to obtain capital or else again undertake to become completely communist and make itself independent of capital. The latter experiment failed when it was tried before and would break now against the passive resistance of the peasants. The other experiment is a business possibility but might involve the political downfall of those who made it. When confronted with two alternatives, both impossible, the ordinary political escape is to start trouble. If Russia would permit it, the world could very well afford the cost of restoring its prosperity in order to establish the safety of the rest of us.

ENDS LIFE SAN FRANCISCO, July 14—Believed to have gone suddenly insane, William B. Hayes of Berkeley, leaped to his death today from the tenth floor of a Powell street hotel. Hayes was an insurance adjuster for the W. B. Brandt company, papers in his possession removed. Hayes is survived by a widow and three children.

BYRD TO EXPLORE IN WHALE VESSEL

SAN PEDRO, Calif., July 14.—One of the most unusual types of ships in the world and one that literally swallows and consumes a whale, will carry Commander Richard E. Byrd and his Antarctic expedition to Stewart Island next October.

The C. A. Larsen, Norwegian whaling vessel of 22,000 tons, will be used by Byrd in reaching his base at Stewart Island. In addition to members of the party the ship will also transport Byrd's Fokker and equipment.

The Larsen is so constructed that a whale is taken into the vessel through a gigantic scoop shovel, cut up, cooked and the oil carried off to huge storage tanks.

Bakersfield Ranch Devastated By Fire

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., July 14.—One hundred and fifty volunteer fire fighters were resting today after an all night fight to bring flames that devastated the Stockton ranch northeast of here under control.

Thirty acres of standing grain, a large amount of threshed and stacked wheat, a section of grazing land and a harvester were destroyed.

Wingfield's hearing was set for July 21 by Justice Tom Baker yesterday.

It was said that Wingfield and Marius engaged in a quarrel over a dog.

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—Priscilla Moran, 9-year-old screen star, over whose guardianship a three-cornered legal battle was waged, will be cared for in future by her aunt, Mrs. Margaret Moran Becker, of Long Beach, Judge G. W. Miller ordered here today.

In giving his decision the court stated that he could best serve the interests of the child by granting the custody to Mrs. Becker and declared that a will of Leo Moran, late screen comedian, was drawn up when Moran was of unsound mind and under undue influence.

The will decreed that Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ragland be given custody of the young star. Ragland is a Hollywood motion picture producer.

Allen reported to police that he was driving into Los Angeles about a week ago when a stranger signaled near Burbank and asked for a ride. When he got into the machine the man pressed a gun against his ribs and told him to drive through Los Angeles.

Despite his pleas that his bride would be frantic when she discovered him missing, the stranger forced Allen to drive into Arizona and near Kingsman, forced him to get out of the car and then drove away.

Allen said the man was evidently fleeing from some serious crime as he continually exhibited fear of the police.

Man Is Killed In Quarrel Over Dog

BAKERSFIELD, Calif., July 14.—James Winfield, brother of Tom Baker, 21, and Robert C. Robbins, 20, were arrested when Evans identified the men as the bandits who stopped his automobile at Fourth street and Crescent Heights boulevard, as he and a party of friends were returning from the beach late last night.

According to Evans' report to police, jewelry valued at approximately $5000 was taken from members of the party, which included his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kraft.

Bucs To Train On Coast Again

PASO ROBLES, Calif., July 14.—The Pittsburgh Pirates will again establish a spring training camp here next year, according to an official notice received today from S. W. Dreyfuss, secretary of the Pittsburgh club.

The Pirates have a five-year contract with the Paso Robles Athletic association for use of the park.

Actor Jailed On Alimony Charge

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—Mildred Doran and her pilot, Augie Pedlar, left Lindbergh Field today for Tulsa, Okla., on their way to Long Beach, Calif., where they will compete in the air race to Honolulu which is to start August 11. The take-off was made easily and the couple expected perfect flying away.

Wingfield's hearing was set for July 21 by Justice Tom Baker yesterday.

It was said that Wingfield and Marius engaged in a quarrel over a dog.

Actor Jailed On Alimony Charge

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—Rather than allow his divorced wife to "break his spirit," Cullen Landis, screen star, is serving five days in the county jail.

The actor was ushered from a court room to a cell yesterday when he was brought up for sentence charged with contempt of court in connection with his failure to meet alimony payments.

Mignon Lebrun Landis testified that her ex-husband was $1000 in arrears in alimony while Landis admitted that he had earned $17,000 since last November.

JURY DECIDES MESAN GUILTY OF GUN CHARGE

John Cunningham, of Costa Mesa, was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon upon his neighbor, R. S. Erbe, after a jury in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court had deliberated for 11 minutes late yesterday.

Facing the possibility of sentence to a term of not more than 10 years at San Quentin, Cunningham will make an effort to get probation, it was said today. His attorney, O. A. Jacobs, is expected to present the application for probation when Cunningham appears before Judge Ames for sentence at 9:30 a. m. tomorrow.

The Costa Mesa man was convicted upon testimony that he had invaded Erbe's garage during a neighborhood quarrel and had pursued Erbe around the latter's automobile, while armed with a revolver, finally firing a shot that wounded Erbe in the hand.

Cunningham's own story was that he was a crack shot with a revolver and was only trying to shoot a hammer out of Erbe's hand for his own protection. His emulation of William Tell was a trifling fault, it seemed, and the shot struck the hand instead of the hammer.

Chief Deputy District Attorney L. W. Blodget, who conducted the prosecution, ridiculed Cunningham's story in his address to the jury.

TOASTMASTERS TO TALK DISARMAMENT

Hot weather has no terrors for the members of the Toastmasters club at the Y. M. C. A. The club, under the leadership of C. E. Hawk, president, is going forward with full enthusiasm through the vacation season, meeting regularly every Tuesday evening, according to Ralph Smedley, executive secretary. With 30 members on the roll, practically every member is regular in attendance with the exception of those who are away on vacation trips.

Tuesday evening, H. W. McAleeran, of Los Angeles, a former president of the club, will be present to act as toastmaster. The questions to be discussed are the very pertinent ones of disarmament and independence of the Philippines. Among the speakers who will discuss these subjects are D. L. Kessling, R. I. Matthews, W. H. Penn, J. B. Head, Rolla R. Hayes Jr., Walter Dunlap and Cotton Mather.

SHERIFF WILL APPOINT TWO NEW DEPUTIES

Sheriff Sam Jernigan today announced that M. E. Jemison, former city marshal of Orange, would be appointed deputy sheriffs to take effect on August 1, when a law goes into effect allowing the sheriff's office of this county two additional men.

Jernigan said that he had had a number of applications and that he had just decided today on the appointments.

Jemison is a police officer with much experience. He was city marshal at Orange several years before he retired there last year. Forgy has had no actual police experience. Jernigan said today he had not taken into consideration any appointments to fill the vacancies in his department caused by the suspension of Ed McClellan, chief criminal deputy sheriff, and Joe Irvine, deputy jailer, who were suspended pending the outcome of the Orange county rum scandal. He said that rumors in Los Angeles to the effect that he was considering making appointments for the jobs of these two men were without foundation.

NEW POLICEMAN APPOINTED HERE

Chief of Police Claude Rogers announced today that E. P. Wurtz, experienced police officer, had been added to the Santa Ana force and would assume his duties immediately.

Wurtz formerly was a patrolman at Glendale and at Burbank and has had several years experience, it was said. He succeeds Patrolman Charles E. Dixon, who resigned several days ago.

ARGUMENTS IN SUNSET BEACH CASE FINISHED

Argument upon an injunction sought by a group of Sunset Beach property owners against contemplated improvements in that community was completed late yesterday before Superior Judge E. J. Marks, who took the matter under advisement. Judge Marks' decision is expected shortly.

The group of plaintiffs, who objected to the awarding of a contract by the county supervisors to W. M. Ledbetter and company, covering plans for improving certain streets, erecting a bridge and building a board walk along the beach, took their fight into court when the supervisors refused to accede to their objections.

A petition for injunction was filed against the contractor, the county and members of the board of supervisors. Head, Rutan and Scovel, of Santa Ana, and William P. Boland, of Long Beach, were counsel for the plaintiff group, which included Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Bryant, Scott Campbell, Fred Dee, W. A. Duckworth, Robert Gilchrist, Katherine A. James, Harold Lion, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Sheeley and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin H. Rucker.

E. E. Howard, Los Angeles, was associated with the district attorney's office in the defense. He represented the contractor.

Jernigan said that he had had a number of applications and that he had just decided today on the appointments.

COSTUMES IN SPORTS EFFECT POPULAR FOR AFTERNOON WEAR

HERE ARE SHOWN TWO VARIATIONS OF THE EVER-POPULAR SPORTS COSTUMES. WHITE, YELLOW AND CEDAR BROWN ARE UTILIZED IN THE LONG SLEEVED SWEATER WITH A FLAT CREPE SKIRT IN THE BROWN OF THE LOWEST BAND. THE SECOND PICTURE IS OF A MATCHING SKIRT AND LONG COAT WITH CONTRASTING JUMPER.

BY HENRI BENDEL
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, July 14.—I sometimes wonder if smart America won't soon be attending debutante balls and formal dinners in sports suits and sweaters, so insistent is Milady's summer demand for "something with a sports effect," even for afternoon wear.

Of course this is the logical trend of fashions. For women grow more addicted to outdoor activity each year and it is natural that their taste in clothing reflects it.

Sportswear, consequently, grows more lovely and original as it basks in the warming rays of popularity. Couturiers, taxing their originality, are creating most unusual and enchanting sports effects.

Personally, I am partial to the sports outfit that has a natural simplicity instead of a studied, sophisticated effect of it. And I like white, or clear, exquisite line and color combination giving dash rather than bizarre figured materials.

Matching Skirt, Coat, Jumper

I show today the smartest of summer's sports ensembles, to my way of thinking. This is the skirt and long coat that matches with a jumper of contrasting color. Perhaps it's a harbinger of a revival of the coat and skirt for afternoon wear next winter. At any rate it signifies the breaking down of prejudices against contrasting skirt and bodice that banished the shirtwaist years ago.

This coat suit today is of white Rodier cloth, a kind of hand-woven basket-weave.

The coat is delightfully simple, unlined, with patch pockets and tiny rolled back cuffs. The skirt originates a circular front godet effect, giving a charming flare.

The Angora jumper, of the soft variety that rolls into a tiny ball, is so sheer, is sun yellow, with a narrow white ribbon edging its sleeveless armholes, the bottom and neck.

Cedared Brown Hat

The big white basket-weave hat demonstrates that the large hat can grow tailored as summer progresses. Its bulbous crown is new, as is its black flange across the top of its brim. Black grosgrain ribbon wings a bow across the front and edges the brim. Yellow stockings matching the jumper are worn quite appropriately with this suit.

The long-sleeved sweater that stands alone with no coat to complement it deserves praise this summer. I show perhaps the sunniest one I have imported this year, a sheer pebble hand-weave, in silk and wool.

White, yellow and brown join hands to give it beauty and contrast.

The white affects a deep drop yoke that includes the top of the sleeves in its scheme.

The yellow forms the function of fusing the white and cedar brown without the shock of contrast.

This is a perfect model for the tall girl or woman.

LEGIONNAIRES TO NOMINATE NEW OFFICERS

Santa Ana Legionnaires will tonight nominate officers for the year which begins in September.

The offices to be filled are those of commander, first vice commander, second vice commander, sergeant-at-arms, chaplain, adjutant and five berths on the post's executive committee.

Nominations will remain open for several weeks and the election will be held at the first meeting in September.

Rumors heard in Legion circles regarding prospective candidates are to the effect that Carl Edgar, present first vice commander, will be a candidate for commander; Franklin G. West, present second vice commander, will run for first vice commander, and Charles Van Wyk will be nominated as second vice commander.

Legionnaires who will probably run for membership on the executive committee, the governing body of the post, are Bob Sandon, O. A. Jacobs, A. B. Berry, Hunter Leach, Ed Kolb and Fred Crowell. Others will be nominated, it was said.

Charles DuTemple and Roland Dye may be nominated for the chaplain post, it was said, and the name of R. Foltz has been mentioned for sergeant-at-arms.

The meeting tonight, expected to be a large one in point of attendance because of the nominations to be made, will start at 6:30 o'clock, with a dinner to be served by the Santa Ana Legion auxiliary.

An entertainment program of high type has been arranged and more than 300 members of the post are expected to attend, according to Elmer Schanip, post adjutant.

Airplane Brooches Latest In Paris

PARIS, July 13 — Airplane brooches of platinum and diamonds are the latest jewel fad. They promise to replace the bird and animal pins which have been so popular for several seasons.

One of the most exclusive jewelers in Paris is credited with having started the fad by making for the order of a flying English woman, an airplane brooch, which she wears on a helmet shaped hat.

In compliment to Lindbergh, still the idol of Paris, the jeweled brooches are in the form of monoplanes.

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif., July 14.—Samples of high grade ore, discovered near Paso Robles, reported running into thousands of dollars per ton, were exhibited here today by William Gahan, finder of the state's latest mystery "strike."

Mining engineers have declared the ore tellurium gold, similar to that found at the Independent mine near Cripple Creek, Colo.

The location of the deposit is being kept secret by the owners of the property, and development work is being done to locate the main lode.

Two weeks ago gold running around $15 per ton was found in the Union district, east of Paso Robles.

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—A squadron of federal prohibition agents from local headquarters seized a 300-gallon automatic still on a ranch said to be owned by Peter McCafferry, 12 miles from Bakersfield yesterday, according to reports received here.

The federal agents also reported that 10,000 gallons of mash were confiscated and large quantities of liquor in addition to the still which was so constructed that it worked automatically.

Marcell Martin, Charles Bender and Frank Vervuccoro were lodged in the Bakersfield jail and a warrant was issued for a man said to be the owner and operator of the still.

FARMERS ARE PROTECTED BY NEW U. S. LAW

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—One thing that congress did for the farmers at its last session was to pass what is known as the Produce Agency act to protect them against the practices of unscrupulous commission merchants. This law became effective July 1.

Under its provisions farmers will be assured that they will get a square deal when they ship perishable products on consignment. For years there have been numerous complaints that farmers have been cheated or dealt with unfairly by individuals and firms whom they trusted to market their produce on the commission basis, and in many instances there has been abundant evidence that the complaints were justified, but there was nothing that could be done about it.

Under this system of marketing the farmer ships a carload of melons or potatoes, or any quantity of those or any other of his products to an agency to be sold at the best obtainable price, the agency to receive a stipulated commission. The transaction is wholly at the farmer's risk. If his produce does not arrive in good condition, if it spoils before it can be sold, if it arrives when there is a market glut and a buyer cannot be found for it, or if the best price obtainable is so low that the proceeds will not even pay the freight, he is out of luck. Moreover, in the past he has had to take the agency's word for it if for any reason he did not realize what he had hoped or expected from the shipment.

He might be told, for example, that his melons were in bad condition when received or had to be sold for little or nothing. He would have no means of making sure whether this were true, for before he could get any trace of his melons they would not only have been sold, but consumed, and he would find it an exceedingly difficult matter to prove at what price his particular lot of melons had been sold. He might even be told that it had been found necessary to dump or destroy his melons, and all he could do would be to curse his luck and pick another agency for his next consignment.

There have been cases in which perfectly good produce has been dumped or destroyed to hold prices at higher levels than could be maintained if regulated solely by the law of supply and demand. This is where the consuming public becomes interested in the matter, for it has to pay more for the produce than is justified by actual market conditions.

Of course reputable commission men do not indulge in practices such as have been complained of, and it is conceded that the great majority of those in the business are reputable. It is equally true that the farmer who is shipping regularly and in considerable quantities has little or no trouble in making marketing connections that are satisfactory in the long run. But there are some crooks in the commission business, and they have found easy marks in the small farmers who have not the resources to fight for their rights.

Under the new law, however, the commission crooks will find that instead of having a few indignant tillers of the soil after them they will have all the powers of the federal government on their trail and that if they are caught they will incur penalties sufficiently severe to make the mites hesitate long before indulging again in sharp practices.

The law covers three important propositions. It makes it a misdemeanor for anyone receiving perishable farm products in interstate commerce for or on behalf of another to dump, abandon or destroy the products so received without good and sufficient cause therefor; to fail, knowingly with intent to defraud, to account truly and correctly for the products or to make any false statement, knowingly and with intent to defraud, concerning the handling condition, quality, sale or disposition of the products. The products concerned include fruits, vegetables, melons, dairy or poultry products, or any other perishable farm products.

Any person found guilty of violating the act may be punished by a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $300, or by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or by both fine and imprisonment. The secretary of agriculture is charged with the enforcement of the act, and with the making of rules and regulations necessary to carry out its provisions.

"In considering the act and the regulations," says Lloyd S. Tenny, chief of the bureau of agricultural economics, "numerous questions will arise in the minds of the handlers of perishable farm products as to when and under what circumstances the law is applicable. It is not possible for the department to foresee and announce in advance all the instances in which the act may apply.

"In its enforcement, the department necessarily must consider each transaction that may come into question strictly upon the facts relating thereto. In general, it may be stated, however, that all persons, firms, associations, or corporations, receiving produce for or on behalf of another in interstate commerce or in the District of Columbia, whether at the point of origin or at destination or elsewhere, are subject to all the provisions of the act. Obviously it applies, therefore, not only to commission merchants but also to distributors, brokers, and others whenever they receive produce to be handled for or on behalf of another."

Provision has been made for the issuance of certificates on produce that is without commercial value when such produce of such a certificate is to protect the receiver subject to the act by furnishing him with evidence which he may submit to his principal to show that he had good and sufficient cause for dumping, abandoning, or destroying the produce.

The law does not require the receiver to get such a certificate. That is entirely a matter within his discretion. If he is satisfied that he had good and sufficient cause for dumping and is acting in good faith, he need not have the produce inspected. Inspections may be made by any authorized inspector of the United States department of agriculture, or by any health officer or food inspector of any state, county, parish, city or municipality.

ART RECEPTION OPENS TONIGHT AT LOCAL INN

The reception and exhibit of the Laguna Beach Art association at St. Ann's Inn at 8 o'clock tonight, which is expected to attract noted people in the painting world from all over Southern California, presents a wide variety of canvases, which are counted on to appeal to a large range of preferences among art lovers. Each picture seems to have an individuality and style all its own, almost every conceivable subject being represented in the pictures at the inn. The display is for the purpose of raising funds for a new art gallery at Laguna.

A great many of the paintings reveal the beauty of the country in the immediate vicinity of Santa Ana and may be expected to have additional appeal for that reason. Irving Manor's "Decoration," Clarence Hinkle's "Quiet Pose," Anna Hill's "Capistrano," F. W. Culpin's "Nocturn," Eleanor Colburn's "Spanish Dancer," and Karl Yens' "Sewing Circle" are among the pictures which have excited admiration among those who have been allowed to inspect the exhibit.

At the reception tonight Mrs. Guy Bates Post, whose reputation was made in musical comedy, will be one of the speakers and it is hoped that Douglas Fairbanks will also be present to address the gathering. The Rev. Percy Wise Clarkson, pastor of St. Francis-by-the-Sea, Laguna, and Clyde Downing, president of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, also will speak.

Subscriptions to the $35,000 gallery fund will be received tonight and each subscriber will be given one of the paintings. The exhibit will be at St. Ann's Inn for a week, after which it will go to Long Beach.

FORMER ORANGE MAN KILLS WOMAN AND COMMITS SUICIDE IN REDONDO BEACH DWELLING

J. C. Lindeman, 62, former Orange carpenter, shot and killed Mrs. Anna Lewis as she lay in her bed at Redondo Beach early today and a few minutes later committed suicide by shooting himself in the head, according to information obtained from the beach city.

The crime was committed soon after the husband of the woman had gone to work. It was said Lindeman walked into the bedroom and shot the woman. He then rushed out on the street and yelled to a neighbor to "come and see what I've done."

R. H. London, real estate broker, accompanied Lindeman into the house, and then went out to notify the police. Lindeman remained in the house with the body for several minutes, pending the arrival of the officer, who went to the front door when he came.

"Don't come in here, go around to the back door," Lindeman said to the officer when he rang the bell. The officer went around the house to the rear door and on reaching it heard a shot. He found Lindeman on the floor, fatally wounded. Mrs. Lewis was dead in bed.

Lindeman succumbed to their wounds two hours after they were inflicted.

Lindeman succumbed to his over a month ago, after selling property he owned there at 545 South Orange avenue, according to his son, F. L. Lindeman, who resides at 420 South Center street, Orange.

The son said his father visited him Tuesday night, spending the night, and left the next morning, saying that he was going to Redondo Beach where he had obtained work and that if the son wanted him he could locate him there. The father told the younger Lindeman that he had recently returned from Oregon, where he visited his brother.

Neighbors at Redondo Beach said that Mr. and Mrs. Lewis and Lindeman made the trip to Oregon together in the Lewis machine and had returned only a few days previously.

That Lindeman was in a highly nervous state yesterday was intimated by neighbors today, who stated that the man had walked up and down the street for several hours yesterday as if in deep thought.

The son went to Redondo today to claim the body.

Lindeman left two notes, one addressed to Nick Lewis, husband of the dead woman, who is employed at San Pedro, and a second to his son.

The note to Lewis was incoherent and read as follows:

"Anna told you about you and yourself. The way you and she came to California and left the children back there. And about the alimony in the reason you came to Redondo to live."

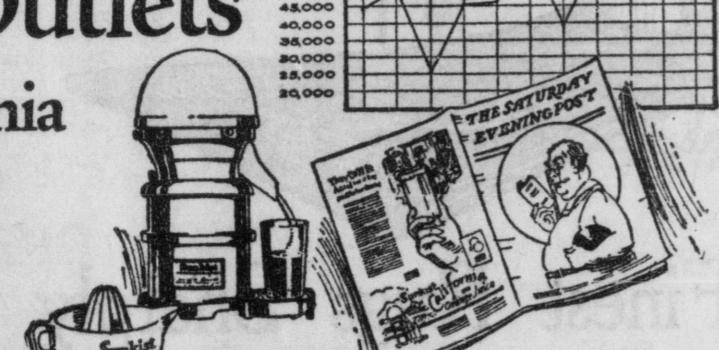

Signed "J. C. L."

The other note read: "In case anything happens, please notify F. L. Lindeman, 420 South Center street, Orange."

Finding New Outlets for California Citrus Fruits!

DURING the 1916 crop year, 44,658 carloads of oranges, lemons and grapefruit were produced and sold by California citrus growers. In 1926, this volume had risen to 63,640 carloads, an increase of nearly 43%.

In 1916 Florida shipped 20,925 cars of citrus fruits; in 1926, 36,750 carloads, an increase of over 75%.

But in spite of this ever increasing competition from both within and without, Sunkist growers had returned to them considerably more per car in 1926, than in 1916.

The sales promotion efforts of the Exchange have been largely responsible for this profit-making effort.

In America, through continuous advertising by the Exchange, "Sunkist" has become a household word. More people prefer it than all other brands of citrus fruits combined. Thus the word "Sunkist" alone will be a stimulus for future sales of Exchange fruit.

Sunkist advertising has educated the American public to a new appreciation of oranges and lemons—their healthfulness, their deliciousness and their multitude of uses, thus developing new consumers and persuading old users to consume more.

Exchange investigators found that soda-fountains did not push fresh fruit drinks because of the labor required to extract the juice by hand. So under the guidance of the Exchange, approximately 40,000 electrical fruit juice extractors have been manufactured and sold at cost to soda fountains. Thus a new market for citrus fruit has been created. Last year, it is estimated, Exchange growers disposed of 1,700,000 boxes through this one outlet. And in addition, 630,000 new glass hand reamers have been sold to increase the home consumption of orange and lemon drinks.

People buy more fruit if it is displayed prominently and attractively. So last year Exchange promotion experts called on 59,082 leading retail grocers, fruit merchants, soda fountains, hotels and restaurants to arrange for window displays, introduce better fruit merchandising methods and in other ways stimulate California citrus fruit sales.

Foreign sales of Exchange fruit for 1926 were over three times as great as in any previous year. The United Kingdom, Europe, the Orient, the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands, New Zealand and Australia are being developed for larger shipments each succeeding year.

The products plants of the Exchange absorb thousands of carloads of oranges and lemons annually. Here lemons are converted into citric acid, lemon oil and citrus pectin, and oranges are made into orange oil and concentrate. Thus Sunkist growers dispose of all their fruit.

This constant expansion of old and new consumer and dealer outlets is only one of the many services rendered by the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

Yet the total cost of all Exchange services is less than the sales expense alone of any other citrus marketing organization. For every dollar of sales only two or three cents are required to cover the entire cost of Exchange service (2.48 cents last year).

The 11,000 grower members of the Exchange invite you to join them in this great cooperative movement.

Ask your neighbors who market through the Exchange how they value its services. Talk to the manager of the nearest Exchange association or District Exchange. Or write now for further information to California Fruit Growers Exchange, Box 530, Station C, Los Angeles.

Pilings For East Jetty Being Cured

CORONA DEL MAR, July 14—Fifty-four of the interlocking pilings bairn constructed by Leo Weber for the east jetty are curing on the beach, 540 being the total number required. Mr. Weber states that it will be about three weeks before any of the pilings are placed in position. A large bin for holding the materials for constructing the piling has been placed at the foot of the bluff and the materials are chuted down the bluff from above. A wide expanse of sandy beach east of the bathing pavilion makes an ideal spot for laying the forms for the pilings.

CHARGE FILED IN DEATH CASE

Ford Costner, 22, of Pomona, Pacific Electric railway conductor, yesterday was arrested on a manslaughter charge, following the incident held at Pomona over the body of Juanita Fay Bennett, 17, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. A. C. Bennett, 1170 West Fourth street, Pomona.

The girl was killed last Sunday when the car in which she was driving with Costner and two others overturned on the Brea Canyon road. The other occupants of the machine were badly hurt.

Bail in Costner's case was set at $2500, which he made, and he is free pending his arraignment.

According to reports of the accident as brought out at the inquest, the Costner machine overturned after skidding 382 feet along the highway.

Funeral services for Miss Bennett will be held in Pomona tomorrow morning.

PASTOR TELLS
KIWANIS CLUB
RUBBER FACTS

"Education of old members who know all there is to know, or who believe they know all there is to know," was the theme of the program put on at the Kiwanis club meeting yesterday by "Baby" Kiwanians, under the direction of Harry Westover, program chairman.

Announced as a "Cocking Bull Story," Westover presented an original story in which he brought in the names of a great many of the club members. The arrangement was clever and the chairman made a big hit with his stunt.

The Rev. Richard H. Silverthorn, assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian church, was revealed as an expert on the making of rubber.

The minister was in the mission field in the Orient for five years, he disclosed, and for a greater portion of that time he had charge of the development of rubber on mission lands on the Malay peninsula, having supervision over the gathering of rubber "milk" and processing it into rubber.

The Rev. Mr. Silverthorn gave an interesting and instructive talk on the development of the culture of rubber on the peninsula and in India, and pointed out that raising of rubber is done almost entirely by Chinese.

Side-lights were thrown on the method by which the East India company, a British corporation, secured control of the production and marketing of rubber.

Master Watson Ruddy, son of Mrs. and Mrs. E. R. Ruddy, made his first appearance before the club and won the admiration of Kiwanians for the strength and clearness of his tenor voice, demonstrated in a group of three songs. He was accompanied by Miss Lenora Tompkins.

Firpo Still Has Ring Aspirations

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—Luis Firpo, the "wild bull of the Pampas," weighing 260 pounds, still hasistic aspirations, according to Luis Vincentini, Chilean lightweight, who is training for a bout with Jimmy McLarnin here July 23.

"Firpo weighed 214 pounds and was in fine condition the night Dempsey floored him nine times," Vincentini said. "He's as big as a bear now and talks of fighting again, but I doubt it."

Sharkey Loses To New York Weather

NEW YORK, July 14.—Boxing experts and particularly the "old timers" are beginning to wonder whether Jack Sharkey's plan of training in a mid-town gymnasium and living at a Broadway hotel is going to do him any good.

Sharkey lost a decision to the hot weather yesterday and quit with four rounds of boxing and a little gymnastics. Of those four rounds in only two did he seem to be really hard at work.

Lights Event

BALBOA, July 14—Preparations for the tournament of lights and three-day regatta which is to begin July 30 are under way and 20 boats are already under way in the Island Boat house to take part in this big festival of lights. According to J. A. Beek, who is in charge this one promises to eclipse all others and more enthusiasm is being displayed than in past years. There is to be a bigger and better display of fireworks, which will be sent up from all over the harbor district from old Newport to Corona del Mar. This festival is one looked forward to each year by the visitors to the beaches, and one which is distinct from attractions offered anywhere else.

BAND CONCERT IS PLANNED IN PARK TONIGHT

Birch Park is expected to be the center of interest tonight for a large number of Santa Ana and Orange county residents, for the Santa Ana Municipal band will present its first program of the series of summer concerts at the park.

D. C. Clanton, director, has arranged the following program for tonight:

March, "Up the Street," R. G. Morse; overture, "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna," Suppe; trio, "Musical Moment," D. C. Clanton; waltz, "Blue Danube," J. Strauss; selection from Opera "Ernani," G. Verdi; Hungarian Dances Nos. 5 and 6, J. Brahms; baritone solo, Barcarolle song from "La Gioconda," Ponchielli; Robert Bradford; march, "Fidelity," H. L. Blankenburg.

SWIM GLASSES
BE ORGANIZED

With the quota nearly filled for the swimming class for small boys, which is to start next Monday morning at the Y. M. C. A., a demand has arisen for similar instruction for young girls, and it is expected that plans will be completed within a few days whereby the Y. W. C. A. will offer a course of five or six special lessons for the girls, which will give them the same opportunity as the boys to learn to swim.

The class for boys from seven to ten years of age will start next Monday morning. The enrollment has been limited to 25 and most of the places have already been taken. This is not a free course, nor is it merely a chance for the boys to jump around in the pool. They will be given careful systematic instruction by Physical Director R. R. Russick, using the regular course of work by which he brings a great majority of his pupils into some degree of ability as swimmers in only five lessons.

Information concerning the class for boys may be secured at the Y. M. C. A. office, while queries as to the class for girls should be made at the Y. W. C. A.

Completion of Anaheim's new $35,000 Greek theater, another unit in the city's now famous recreational system in detail when the city park site was laid out several years ago, is to be celebrated with impressive ceremonies in the new theater tomorrow evening.

Dedicated to the promotion of community harmony and understanding the new structure occupies a central position in the park site, the high graceful arches of its entrance and the long pergolas forming its enclosure making an impressive showing from Lemon street, one of the principal thoroughfares through town.

The Spanish stucco design has been carried out in the main entrance structure, the stage and in the two arcade buildings that form the other corners of the open square formed by the enclosure. Graceful pergolas, over which vines will twine, connect the four structures included in the unit.

The base of the amphitheater, which provides seats for 2000 persons, is of concrete and slopes sharply from the entrance at the rear to the stage. The stage platform is also of concrete and is open to the sky, a back stage room being provided under an arcade.

Designed by M. Eugene Durfee, Los Angeles and Anaheim architect, who prepared the original plans for the park system, the building was erected by Hamlyn and Young, Anaheim contractors. It is to be paid for out of the general funds of the city, no bond issue being necessary.

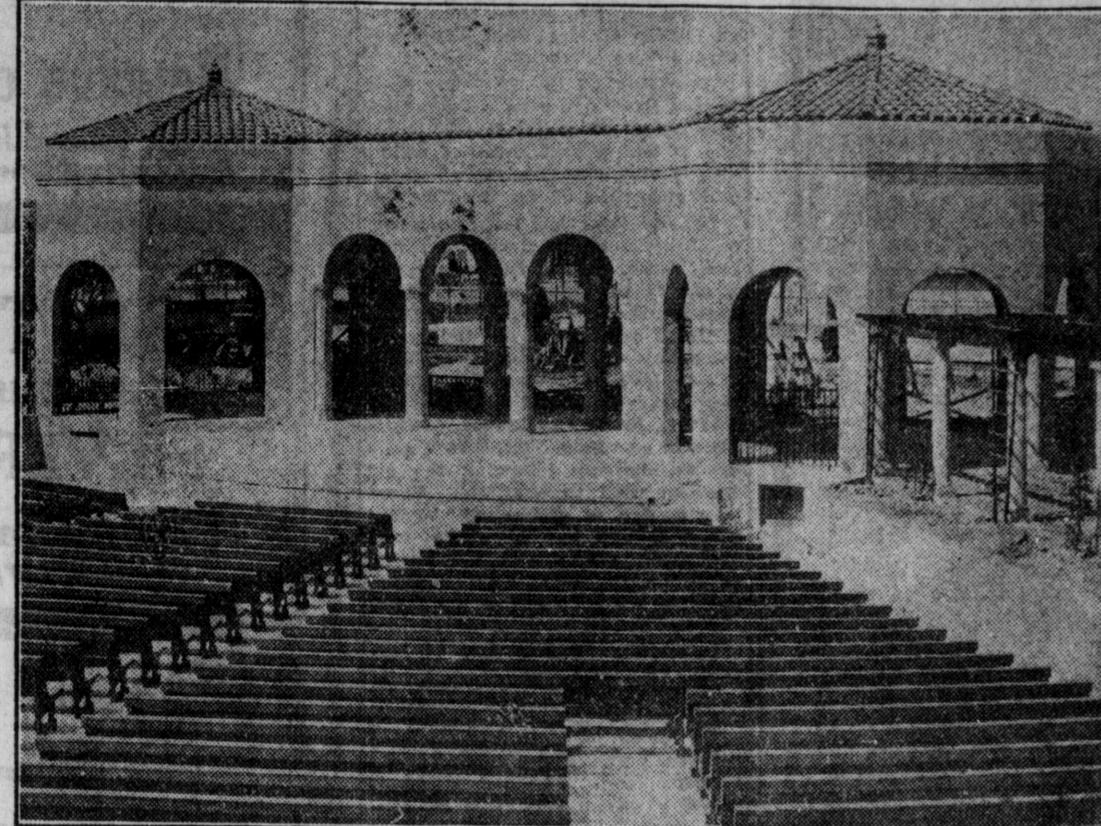

Community singing by the 2000 persons expected to participate in tomorrow evening's ceremony is to be an important part of the dedication observances, according to announcement today by Trustee L. E. Miller, who is general chairman on arrangements for the event.

The dedication ceremonies will open at 7:30 p. m. with a half-hour concert by the Anaheim American Legion band of 35 pieces under the direction of Carl E. Ecklund, following which Warren Ashleigh, local baritone, will lead the community singing.

34 BEACH OIL WELLS STARTED SINCE JULY 1

With 34 permits issued for oil derricks since July 1, activity in the Huntington Beach field continues unabated.

The Reynolds and Proctor well on Fourteenth street and Olive avenue, known as the Crndl No. 10, is drilling in cement, according to reports. It is down 3550 feet and will be placed on production about August 1, it is believed.

The Pacific Coast well at Twelfth street and Ocean avenue set casing yesterday and from indications will make a good well, it is said by observers.

The Bolton No. 1 in the shallow pool at Orange avenue and Sixteenth street is holding up at 200 barrels and indicates that shallow wells may prove successful. The Bolton No. 1 was brought on production two weeks ago at 200 barrels.

The Charles Treat Petroleum company spudded in a new well at Fourteenth street and Olive avenue yesterday.

GREAT SNAKES!

PHILLIPS, Neb., July 14.—A man and his wife living near Phillips camp found a rattlesnake in bed with them the other day. The reptile was 4 feet 2 inches long and is the first rattlesnake to make a public appearance this season. The couple exhibited the snake in their automobile.

Demand For New Device On Increase

Prospects of the plant of the Snap-O-Stat company, Anaheim, being pressed to its full capacity to meet the demand for the product it manufactures were revealed today with the announcement by H. L. Brisco, newly elected president of the corporation, that arrangements with a reputable sales agency for the national distribution of the Snap-O-Stat device are now virtually completed.

The Snap-O-Stat device, invented by Louis W. Schnepp, Riverside plumber and under development here for the past two years, is an inexpensive attachment for use in transforming ordinary storage hot water heaters into automatic heaters and already has won wide recognition and use.

To turn out 100 devices per day would require a working force of 15 men and the company is looking forward, with its new sales connection, to expanding to this point in the very near future, Brisco stated.

SAN CLEMENTE SALES FOR 90 DAYS $655,293

Announcement was made this week that sales of San Clemente property during 90 days ending July 5, amounted to $655,293.75, the Huteson and Murphine organization, Los Angeles, winning the sales contest over the United Land company, Long Beach.

With their quota at $225,000 for the contest, Huteson and Murphine made sales of $489,375.25, or $264,375.25 more than their quota called for. With their quota at $150,000, the United Land company sold $165,918.50 worth of property, exceeding their quota by $15,918.50.

H. J. Rich, who works out of the Los Angeles office of Huteson and Murphine, led the entire sales organization in total volume of sales, namely, $46,288.75. Fred E. Barnes of the United Land company was second with sales amounting to $33,800, and R. E. Muney of the Los Angeles office of Huteson and Murphine was third with sales of $31,925. Of the outside offices of the latter organization, Carl Crowsen of San Bernardino, crowded Mr. Muney for third place.

$25,000 HOME WILL BE BUILT IN SANTA ANA

Office for Optometrist and Dentist Will Rise on West Third Street

Permits for substantial structures granted by W. S. Decker, building superintendent, this week total $51,971, with a residence structure to cost $25,000, a business building to cost $7500 and two school additions costing $11,444 and $8027 respectively planned.

L. A. West, prominent Orange county attorney, was granted a permit yesterday to erect a $25,000 home at 2226 Victoria drive. The building will cover a ground space 66 feet by 52 feet and will be finished with the best of materials.

Additional arcades to the high school structures are to be built by E. W. Smith by order of the board of education at a recent meeting. The contract calls for concrete structures, the total cost to be $11,444. Wood stucco lavatories will be built at the school at Sycamore and Cubbon streets by Bowman and Preble, contractors, at a cost of $8027. The structure is to be 64 feet by 24 feet in dimensions.

Today marks the beginning of a building program for Dr. Roy S. Horton, optometrist, and Dr. M. H. Duncan, dentist, at 815 West Third street. The residence at that address is being moved to make way for an attractive $7500 office building.

Groundwork on the building is expected to get under way next week. According to Fay Spangler, architect, the building will be 30 feet by 50 feet, of brick and tile construction and follow the Spanish design throughout.

Six rooms will be included, with a patio inside a high brick wall in the rear. The patio will be 25 feet by 30 feet and will contain a fish pond.

The contract has not yet been let.

S. A. Realtors To Talk Convention

Realtors of Santa Ana, at the weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Realty board at Kettner's cafe tomorrow, will devote most of the time to a discussion of the coming convention in Santa Monica, according to Carl Mock, president.

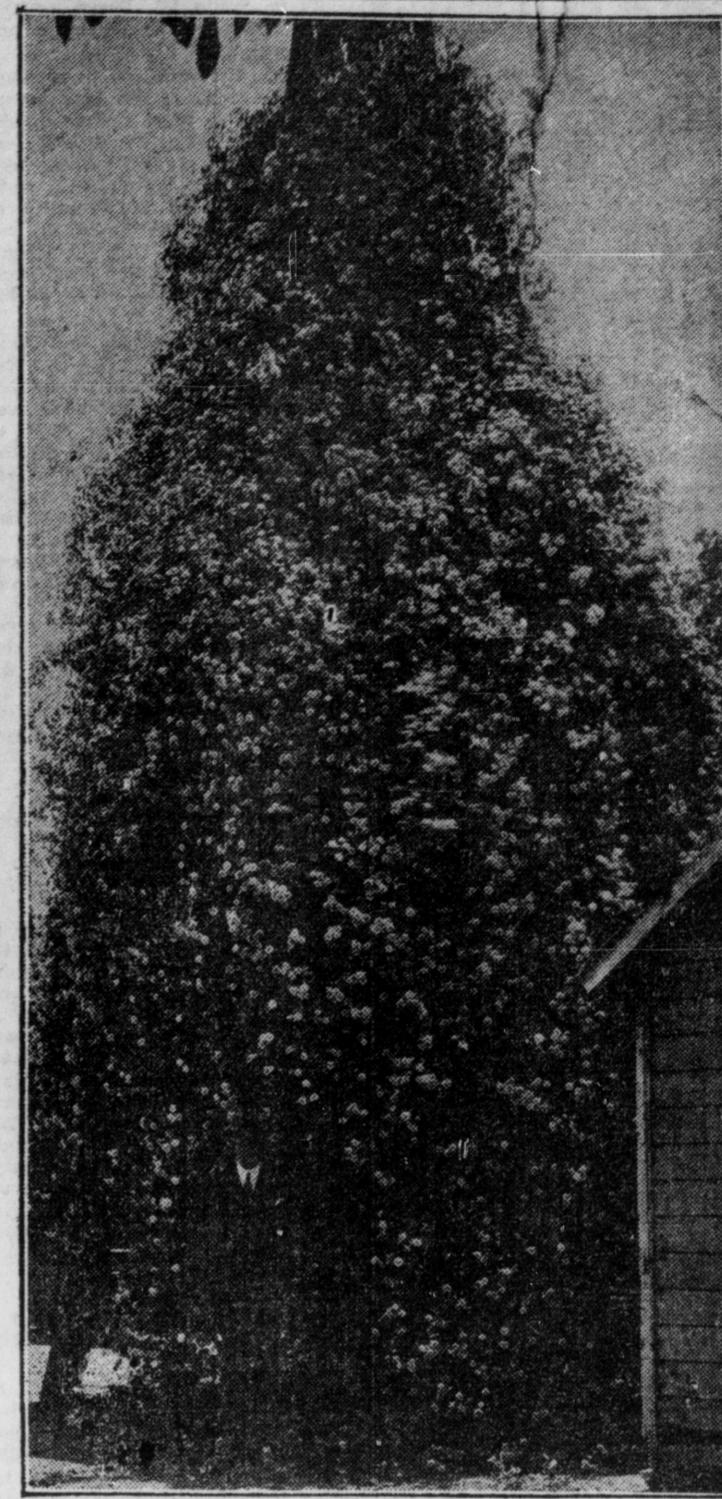

Because the place of convention is no near, it is believed that a good many of the local dealers will be able to attend.

No special program has been planned for tomorrow's meeting.

SANTA ANA BOASTS RECORD SIZE CECIL BRUNER BUSH

Above is shown the J. W. Estus rose bush on Martha street, one of the largest in the world. It is the mecca for Southland rose lovers.

ROSE LOVERS FLOCK TO SEE IMMENSE BUSH

One of the largest rose bushes in the world is located in Santa Ana, on the J. W. Estus property on Martha street near Bristol street. It was revealed today by W. Floyd Croddy, of the Santa Ana Improvement company, builders of Washington Park.

The bush, a Cecil Bruner, is 25 feet in height. It measures 12 feet through the base foliage and has a stock 12 inches in diameter. It is 25 years old.

Croddy cited the rose bush in pointing out that the Washington Park property abounds in flowers and trees.

Twenty-five new homes are scheduled to be erected in the subdivision within the next four months. Fourteen bungalows already have been built. Recent buyers of lots who plan to build soon include Mrs. May Cannon, of Taft; Earl Upshaw, of Huntington Beach, and W. E. Tietzel, of Los Angeles.

The large rose bush has attracted a great deal of attention and hardly a day goes by without some one stopping to view it. The bush is in a healthy condition and is expected to continue its growth.

LARGE SWIMMING POOL PROJECTED

1,000,000 Gallon Water
Reservoir Is Planned;
Employ S. A. Engineer

Work on Orange county's newest subdivision, the Irvine Beach and Country Club estates, located about midway between Newport Beach and Laguna Beach, was started today, when a crew of men started the installation of a temporary water system.

Millions will be expended in making the project one of the most outstanding on the Pacific coast, according to the backers.

Plans $10,000 Office

A crew will commence soon to erect a $10,000 office building on the property. About 40 men will be employed in this work and in laying out the subdivision, according to Max Winter, vice president of the owning company.

The tract consists of 640 acres lying along the beach and extending back approximately one mile from the shore line.

Begin Clubhouse Soon

In the program of improvements planned is a clubhouse scheduled to cost $450,000. The largest outdoor swimming pool in the Southland will be built in connection with the clubhouse, Winter said. The clubhouse will be commenced following completion of the office structure.

There will be about 2000 lots in the tract, the smallest to be 60 by 140 feet. Some of the lots along the shore will be an acre in size.

Polo Field Projected

Other objectives include a 1,000-gallon water reservoir, golf course, polo field and a completely equipped water system. The water at present is secured from Irvine company wells.

The property was purchased from the Irvine company and this company retains an interest in the project, it is understood.

Employ S. A. Engineer

C. Roy Browning, of Santa Ana, has been retained as water system engineer. The property will be surveyed by the Lynch Engineering company, Los Angeles. Norman Alpaugh, Los Angeles, has been retained to design buildings and R. Bell, also of Los Angeles, will lay out the golf course.

Officers of the Irvine Beach and Country Club estates are as follows: President, Trabue Pittman; vice president, Max Winter; second vice president, T. E. H. Hitchings; secretary, David Pittman; directors, Roy Burton, Brook Hawkins and James Irvine, all of the officers reside in Los Angeles.

CLEANS UP $1800

NEW YORK, July 14.—John Ault, a dishwasher of 65, decided to roam. So he left his room and slid down a drainpipe. The old man fell the last 10 feet and was taken to Emergency hospital. He insisted he had $1800. Police searched his room and found the money, in bills, spread out under a carpet.

Building Permits In U. S. Decrease

NEW YORK, July 14.—A substantial reduction in building permits in the United States in the first six months of 1927 was reported today by S. W. Straus and company.

Building permits issued in April cities up to July 1 totaled $2,034,696,933, compared to $2,245,030,070 for the same period in 1926. The loss was about nine per cent.

New York showed a reduction of $22,000,000 in the six-months period: Los Angeles, $5,000,000; San Francisco, $8,000,000.

Portland, Ore., gained $3,000,000.

MINER'S HOSPITAL

PICHER, Okla., July 14.—Ottawa county zinc and lead miners will have a tubercular hospital of their own if plans of Mrs. Bobbie Joseph, welfare nurse of the American Zinc Institute, mature. ## SAYS ALASKA IDEAL PLACE FOR YOUNG MAN

"Alaska is the greatest place in the world today for a young man who can adapt himself to varied conditions," commented Capt. Earl F. Hammond, Alaskan explorer, who arrived at the Hotel Rossmore yesterday. Hammond is spending a week in Santa Ana while he visits W. Perry, of Orange, and Charles Pearson and Art Johnson, of Anaheim.

He has just returned from Alaska, after spending six years there in exploring and archaeological work. He was connected last year with the Detroit Arctic expedition. During his research work he has navigated 24,000 miles of Alaskan waters in boats of not over 60 tons, has had some very close calls, and, as his story goes, has had to postpone many of his meals indefinitely.

Two years ago Capt. Hammond brought from the interior of Alaska the largest collection of archaeological material that has ever come from that region. Part of the collection went to the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, D. C., part to the Colorado Museum of Natural History and part to the University of Nebraska.

The explorer has made several trips to Siberia, where he has several times been arrested.

"We don't recognize their government," laughed the captain, "and so they ask, 'Why should we recognize yours?'"

Everyone who goes into that northern country is likely to get arrested, and negotiations with Moscow are necessary to get a release, said Capt. Hammond.

Capt. Hammond plans to return to Alaska in 1929 in charge of a scientific expedition financed partly by colleges, the names of which he was not at liberty to tell.

The commercial possibilities in Alaska are good, according to Capt. Hammond, who has started a large white fox fur farm in Fairbanks.

The white fox has decreased from 1 to 10 per cent each year for the last 15 years, while the price of fur has gone up from 7 to 200 per cent in that time, he said.

After visiting in Orange county Capt. Hammond plans to return to his home in Nebraska.

18-Year Search For Daughter Ends

LOS ANGELES, July 14.—A search, conducted for 18 years by a mother for her daughter, ended here today, when Mrs. Dana M. Johnson, of San Diego, came to police headquarters in answer to a telegram sent by the missing persons bureau here.

The final effort to find the girl, kidnapped when she was three years old, was made upon request of the dying mother, Mrs. Minnie Renke, of Traverse City, Mich., who asked her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lena McRoberts, of Los Angeles, to renew the search.

Mrs. McRoberts traced Mrs. Johnson through a marriage license issued in San Diego last year to Beatrice M. Dakem, who was unable to give her mother's name. She is believed to be the missing daughter and is preparing to leave for Traverse City.

Prisoner Escapes Officer In Street

FRESNO, Calif., July 14.—Detective Sergeant John Moran returned here today with a pair of empty handcuffs and a story of how Edward A. Malcan, bogus check writer, escaped from him in a crowded Los Angeles street yesterday.

Moran was taking the prisoner to the railway station on their return trip from San Diego to Fresno where Malcan is wanted for passing two fictitious $250 checks, he said.

The man dashed into a crowd of pedestrians and escaped.

Sergeant Moran said he was afraid to shoot after the fleeing man lest he strike a bystander.

WHEN WILL THAT BE?

Suzanne Lenglen says she will continue to play tennis until she is 30 years old.

Warner Baxter and Marietta Millner in a scene from "Drums of the Desert," current attraction at the Yost Broadway.

Fred Thomson in a scene from "Silver Comes Thru," picture showing tonight at the West Coast-Walker theater

WEST COAST-WALKER
Two feature pictures are on the bill closing at the West Coast-Walker theater tonight. Laura La Plante is starred in "Beware of Widows," and Fred Thomson and his marvel horse, Silver King, in "Silver Comes Through."

"Beware of Widows," with Laura La Plante, is one of those fast-moving rollicking farce comedies that defies analysis. It is an exceedingly funny production jammed with good old-fashioned laughs brought on by the latest developments in motion picture acting and production methods.

A supporting cast of good troupers appear in this picture headed by Bryant Washburn, Walter Hiers, of course, is good for many laughs. Helene Conklin makes an exceptionally "goofy" captain of the houseboat on which most of the action takes place. Tully Marshall, Paulette Duval, Catherine Carver and Otto Hoffmann do excellent work.

Fred Thomson comes to the screen in a new type of virile western story in "Silver Comes Through."

A liberal touch of the traditional pride of Old Kentucky in its "horseflesh" is inculcated in this stirring story enacted in a picturesquely western atmosphere. Thomson, as its star is seen in what is virtually a dual characterization of cow-puncher and horse racer though the latter is really an obligatory impromptu role growing out of the rapid sequence of whirlwind action of the story.

The vaudeville bill features Grace Hamilton with Jack Stern and band.

YOST BROADWAY THEATER
The stimulating vigor of Zane Grey stories plus an invariable spirit of romance that fires the imagination, make for genuine entertainment when they are translated to the screen.

So it has proved with "Drums of the Desert" the latest of the Zane Greys adapted from his "Desert Bound" to reach the Yost Broadway theater.

While in no sense a sequel to "The Vanishing American" that

WOMAN EARNS $20,000 MAKING BABIES' SHOES

BARGERSVILLE, Ind., July 13.—A $20,000-a-year business making and selling baby shoes. Quite a compliment to the prowess of Mrs. Grace Dolen, of Bargersville, Ind., who thus has turned her knowledge of knitting needle technique to good account. Of course, she does not do all the work herself; 225 women help her in her "factory." But the first idea was her very own and she herself began it, so she must receive the greatest credit.

Mrs. Dolen lives on a farm from which she conducts the enterprise that has grown to such large proportions from its humble start six years ago. And from the region of Bargersville tiny tots of the big cities, as well as those of neighboring farms, receive their ingeniously wrought shoes from the fast-plying needles of Mrs. Dolen and her small army of helpers. She now has enough laid by to insure a comfortable old age.

Six years ago a white-haired grandmother in a little central Indiana town knitted a tiny pair of silk booties to present to her baby granddaughter, Joan. From this humble beginning, a very prosperous business has developed a business which this year, judging by receipts to date, will net a profit of $20,000.

The little shoes were knitted by Mrs. Grace Dolen, of Bargersville, Ind. They were so exquisitely done and of such unusual design that friends of Joan's mother, pausing to admire the baby, also paused to admire the booties. Among these friends was the proprietress of a small shop nearby. Christmas was coming, and she thought the dainty shoes would look well in her show window, as a hint to Christmas shoppers. So she sought an introduction to Mrs. Dolen, who agreed to hurry through half a dozen pairs in time for the Christmas rush.

They sold at once but not before they had attracted favorable notice. The representative of a large Indianapolis department store happened to be in the neighborhood at the time, and she stopped in at the store to find out where the booties could be obtained. She left an order for a dozen pairs. They proved to be just as popular in Indianapolis as they were in Bargersville. More orders followed. The buyers in other stores became interested.

Mrs. Dolen was living on a farm, caring for her aged father. Her spare time was completely occupied in knitting shoes to supply the ever-increasing sales of the store. But in less than a year the demand became so heavy that she could no longer supply it herself, even if she had spent every waking moment over her knitting needles.

But she made many friends on nearby farms who had nothing to occupy them on the long winter evenings, and who, she was sure,

KINGSTON POPULAR TYPE

No frills about this house, "The Kingston." Its plain and thoroughly American type affords all the attractiveness and comfort of more pretentious homes. Three bedrooms, all of them good-sized, upstairs, and spacious living room, dining room and kitchen downstairs provide ample, appealing accommodations for the average Yankee family. And its cost, $5000 to $6000, is just the proper fit for the average American pocketbook.

would welcome a little extra money for luxuries they had long done without. So she asked a few of them over one afternoon, and they discussed the matter over their tea.

They were delighted with the idea. The work was easy and pleasant; they could pick it up at odd moments during the day, and they could make pocket money.

Mrs. Dolen taught them the pattern, supplied the materials, and started them off. They went their various ways that evening with the needles and spools of silk in their bags.

That was just the beginning. Now Mrs. Dolen employs 225 women, most of whom live within a radius of 25 miles. They do the work at home, bringing the finished shoes to Mrs. Dolen, who inspects them and packs them for sending. She employs ten salesmen to market the product of this successful home industry.

BARNSON WARNS OF SIGNATURES

Failure of license holders to use the same signature when writing the department is causing the state real estate department a great deal of trouble, according to a letter received from Stephen Barnson, state real estate commissioner, by the Santa Ana Realty board.

"A great deal of unnecessary work is caused by brokers and salesmen who, for instance, sign a letter John J. Smith one time and the next time sign as J. J. Smith or Jackson Smith," writes the commissioner. "If a broker or salesman will always sign his name as it appears on his application and license, it will be greatly appreciated by this department."

Commenting on other practices that is causing the department unnecessary work, Barnson says: "Applicants continue to forward their fees, applications and bonds before taking the written examination, regardless of the fact that the instruction on the yellow slip attached to the face of the application blank notifies the applicant under no circumstances to obtain bond or file application until notice of having successfully passed the educational examination is received. Such application makes a lot of unnecessary work, and retards the handling of applications received in proper form, and delays the issuance of licenses."

"Hereafter, when new applicants for broker licenses or brokers who have allowed their licenses to lapse for a period of one year or more, send in their applications before taking the examination, the applications will be returned to them, with instructions to send them in after they meet the requirements of the written examination."

Alabama has followed the lead of other states by putting boxing under the rule of a state commission. No decision bouts not to exceed 10 rounds will be permitted.

SNARE DRUM THIEF KEEPING POLICE OF TWO CITIES ON WATCH FOR HIS ACTIVITIES

This is a story concerning the newest type of criminal encountered by the Santa Ana police—a snare drum thief. So far as is known the thief has never stolen anything else, but he has a weakness for snare drums as drummers both here and in San Diego can testify.

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, July 14.—Pink and gold colors dominated the pretty 12 o'clock luncheon given by Miss Ethel Lindsl at her home on Florence avenue Saturday in honor of her associate conductresses of Orange county. Pink roses were carried out in all the appointments even to the molded ice cream in the form of roses. Cards were enjoyed by the guests following the luncheon with prizes going to Mrs. Ida Clark and second to Miss Vera Wettlin, of Santa Ana. Photographs of the group, accompanied by a friendly letter signed by the members, were sent to Mrs. A. Hoehm at Santa Ana, who was

The thief, of whom the police know little, first came into the lime light when a $100 drum was stolen from C. H. Williams, drummer at the West Coast Walker theater, on July 2. Chief of Police Rogers learned that a man with a snare drum was seen on the highway asking for rides to San Diego.

He communicated with San Diego police and the police there reported yesterday that they had located the drum in a pawn shop. It had been pawned on July 3, for a wrist watch valued at $4.

In the reply to the chief's letter, the San Diego police asked Santa Ana police to try to locate a $100 drum reported stolen there on July 3, the same day the Santa Ana drum was pawned in the southern city.

Rogers found the $100 drum here. Along with it he found another drum, which is being held at police station and which is believed to have been stolen along with the Santa Ana drum and the San Diego drum.

Rogers said today he was of the opinion that the thief stole his first drum here, pawned it in San Diego, and then being without a drum, stole the one in San Diego, and disposed of it in Santa Ana, selling it to a boy for $7.

Mystery surrounds the third drum, but it was disposed of under similar circumstances and police today are endeavoring to learn from where the third drum came, they said. At the same time, every effort is being made to locate the man with the "drum" complex.

Belgian Minister Tables War Reply

BRUSSELS, July 14.—M. Vandervelde, minister of foreign affairs, has tabled in the chamber the first part of the Belgian government's reply to the report of the Reichstag commission set up to consider responsibility for the war.

It answers the German accusation that before the war Belgium had infringed the obligations of her neutrality, in particular by constructing the fortifications of the Meuse. By this action, said the German report, Belgium turned to France for support against Germany.

In reply, M. Vandervelde published diplomatic documents, including letters from William I. to Leopold II., which prove that the fortifications were constructed with the approval of Germany herself.

The letter was written in June, 1887. King Leopold commanded the letter to the prime minister of the time, a few days before the introduction in the Belgian parliament of the demand for credits for the construction of the Meuse forts. The letter was never published. William I. approved the proposed construction, pointing out that fortifications on the Meuse constituted a barrier between France and Germany.

QUIT-RENTS FORM ODD COLLECTION

LONDON, July 14.—King George would possess a unique collection of "odds and ends" if he enforced all the quit-rents to which he is legally entitled.

A "quit-rent" is a contribution in kind made to Britain's reigning sovereign by holders of country estates granted to them by English kings in ancient times.

Some, like the miniature Napoleonic standard presented on the anniversary of the battle of Waterloo by the Duke of Wellington, in respect of his estate at Stratfield Saye, are required annually. Others are due on demand.

The Duke of Atholl holds his lands on condition that he present a white rose to the King whenever honored with a royal visit at his residence, Blair Atholl. The Munros of Foulis, in similar circumstances, are under the much more difficult obligation to present a snowball.

When his majesty passes through the town of Crendon in Buckinghamshire, the owner of the land on which it is situated has to tender red roses. Should the king visit the village of Amesbury, Wiltshire, the owner of the land on which it is situated has to furnish straw for the royal bed.

Rogers found the $100 drum here. Along with it he found another drum, which is being held at police station and which is believed to have been stolen along with the Santa Ana drum and the San Diego drum.

R. Majors, secretary of the Santa Ana lodge.

Preceding the entertainment of the charter members, of whom 28 of the original 48 are still living and in good standing, will gather the past Exalted Rulers of the club at a 6 o'clock dinner in the club dining room. Majors expects about 50 to enjoy the dinner, at which reminiscences of the older day will probably play a major part.

The program as announced by Majors, includes Miss Dorothy Browne, who will open the entertainment with an accordion solo. Miss Browne is a member of the Orpheum circuit and has just completed a tour of Europe. Bobby Johnson of the Music Box Revue with Doreen Wilde, of the Earl Carroll Revue, will present some catchy songs and dances. Songs and piano numbers by Peggy La Source, dancing by La Jetta, and "Seven Feet of Comedy" by Larry and Dolly, round out a program which is expected to put plenty of pep into the evening. In addition Majors has up his sleeve a surprise number, the nature of which will not be revealed till tomorrow night.

D. A. Ault of San Diego, district deputy grand exalted ruler of California, south and L. A. Lewis of Anaheim, past district deputy, will be among the honored guests who will give short talks. Parke Roper, exalted ruler of the Santa Ana order in 1908, will recall the highlights in the history of the local lodge. Other charter members will be called on for short talks.

All of the original members who are living have remained in Southern California and most of them are expected to be present tomorrow night. The 28 living members who are in good standing are Dr. R. A. Cushman, J. P. Greely and R. Reynolds, Burt Ostot, J. W. Tubbs, Ike Fields, Mit Phillips, Herman Harris of San Bernardino, G. C. Preble, V. V. Tubbs, George E. Peters, A. H. Lyon, J. R. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gardner and family, who are away on a month's vacation trip, were at Shasta City the last heard from them and the letter brought the good news that the outing is greatly improving the health of Miss Margaret Gardner, who was taken ill immediately after the close of high school, and for whose benefit the trip is being made.

GERMANY WILL CUT TARIFFS IN SHORT TIME

BERLIN, July 14.—At the congress of the Association of German Chambers of Commerce at Hamburg, Herr Curtius, the minister for economic affairs, announced that the German government was contemplating reductions of industrial tariffs, in pursuance of its approval, expressed by Herr Stresemann at Geneva, of the resolutions of the World Economic conference.

Whereas, we have always recognized the business efficiency, the genius for successful organization and the quality of leadership of Mr. Collier; and

Whereas, he has so ducted himself during the years of our acquaintance that he has constantly gained an increasing number of friends; now therefore be it

Resolved, that we do congratulate our friend, E. B. Collier, and the city of Santa Ana, upon the business arrangement effected by them and that we do express our belief that such arrangement will make for the continued advancement and harmonious development of our sister city.

We further believe that because of the close geographical connection of the cities of Orange and Santa Ana there will be need of the closest co-operation if said cities and their environs are to make the most of their splendid natural advantages.

Believing this, we also believe that in the present city manager of Santa Ana there are combined such qualities and disposition as shall make this co-operation very easy, and that under his unselfish counsel, our mutual task of building together for the best in our respective communities will become not only a duty but a sincere pleasure."

The potato duty is to be raised from 25 pfennigs to 50 pfennigs a cwt., and that on pork from 26 to 32 marks. The increase of the sugar duty is to be accompanied by a reduction of the sugar tax. These concessions are, of course, too small to please the Agrarian Nationalists, although their representative in the cabinet, Herr Schiele, the minister of food and agriculture, has apparently agreed to them.

The left wing of the center, on the other hand, like the opposition parties farther to the left, is dissatisfied on principle, but the center ministers have also, it is to be assumed, given their assent to the compromise.

Herr Curtius is strongly opposed to the idea of a self-supporting state advocated by Herr Schiele of the Agrarians. Most countries, particularly in Europe, are bound to obtain what they lack by means of the national exchange of commodities. The German government is determined to direct its efforts toward achieving the most effective distribution of production in Europe, and the reduction of the tariff level by all three methods recommended by the World Economic conference. He will support general League action with the object of fixing by agreement a maximum tariff level and establishing a uniform tariff schedule.

Another proposal, which promises immediate results, is that of concluding long-term trade treaties with as far reaching modifications as possible of the present excessively high tariffs. This has been the avowed German trade policy for some time, and Herr Curtius declares that the government proposes to pursue it with redoubled energy.

ORPHAN FINDS FRIEND

Occasionally a coyote kills a ewe on the sheep ranches of the far west. But the motherless lamb doesn't always starve. This little boy has brought up 25 "bottle baby" lambs on the Arizona ranch where he lives.

TOURISTS IN YUKON TREK OLD ROUTES

Wurttemberg And Baden In Court On River Water

BERLIN, July 14.—Tourist travel to British Columbia and Alaska has increased so rapidly that at least one steamer a day now lands its passengers at Skagway for the inland trips over famous trails of the gold-rush days.

White Pass, Lake La Barge, Thirty-Mile River, White Horse Canyon, Five-Finger Rapids and other places where so many men came to grief in the early days now may be viewed from railroad trains or from powerful and well-appointed steamers.

More than 7000 tourists landed at Skagway in 1926 and the number will be far exceeded this year, transportation companies announce. These did not include the numbers of big game hunting parties who go north in the fall and outfit at White Horse. Besides the scenic wonders, the gold-mining operations of the Klondike have proved a lure to travelers. They may see hydraulic and placer methods conducted on a scale not experienced anywhere.

Agitators Offer Strike Brides To Hungarian Farmers

BUDAPEST, July 14.—Agitators have been detected in several parts of Hungary who describe themselves as "social democrats" and are inciting agricultural laborers, even with heavy bribes, to strike. They seem to be well provided with money, a fact that in the opinion of Hungarian authorities indicates foreign sources. Since not only the country's welfare but also its very existence depends upon the crops, the government has taken severe measures to suppress the campaign.

Scotch Dictionary To Be Published

LONDON, July 14.—So baffling has the Scotch dialect become that it has been found necessary to prepare a new dialect dictionary for Scotland. For more than a century, Dr. Jamieson's dictionary, published in 1808, has been the only classic compendium of the Scottish tongue. But it was limited in its scope, and the study of languages has advanced since then, as has the Scottish vocabulary.

The Thomas J. Mashhorn, 14, is the lad who made the mistake. He had a good story and was intent on finishing it before going home. Residents in the vicinity selected for the literary spree became suspicious and called the police.

Two husky patrolmen responded and advised the boy to do his reading in the day time or under a light at home.

CHANG TAKES PRINCIPLES OF SUN YAT SEN

PEKING, July 14.—While the Nanking Nationalist government is so confident that it will be sitting in Peking before the summer is over that it has already bought a printing plant and shipped it into the legation quarter, prepared to start a propaganda bureau upon arrival, Chang Tso-lin is so confident that the southerners cannot drive him out that he has started the reorganization of his Peking government, which he will ask the foreign powers to recognize.

At the same time he has consented to change the name of his political organization from An-kueuchu (Army for the Preservation of Tranquility in China) to Hsinkuichiatang, or New Nationalist party. The New Nationalist party in its platform of principles embraces the three principles of Dr. Sun Yat Sen: viz., democracy, constitutional government and a fair wage for workers (a figurative translation), but adds another set intended to placate the Chinese labor classes, Fan Fu, the new prime minister, who succeeds Dr. Wellington Koo, having drawn up the platform.

In this connection it may be mentioned that Sun Yat-Sen just now is all the vogue in China. Fan Fu enunciates the principles of the new party as follows:

(1) Equal treatment and encouragement of scholars, farmers, workers and merchants.

(2) Promotion of "social culture" and development of national economy.

(3) "Brain workers" to be given equal opportunity with manual labor in concluding agreements with employers, the government to establish machinery to deal with labor disputes.

(4) Maintenance of public peace and governmental supervision of public morals.

(5) Opposition to communism.

(6) Opposition to class warfare.

There is another plank about maintaining China's sovereignty, but it is so worded that the simplest way to translate it is to say that it reiterates China's desire to equalize all foreign treaties, but by peaceful means instead of the means favored by the Nationalists of the Hankow type. All this means that Chang Tso-lin, who still holds Peking and is playing his last cards to hold the capital, is now openly avowing Sun Yat-senism.

Chang Tso-lin is offering a China-for-the-Chinese nationalism as against a China-for-Russia nationalism, advocated by the Hankow group. Whether he has spoken just in time or too late to save his own face and the face of his Fengtien party is something the next 60 days should determine.

Meanwhile, some of the strangest Chinese politics ever played in the old Middle Kingdom are the rule, with no leader knowing where his brother stands and each leader zealously striving to keep his right hand from knowing what his left hand is doing—or taking.

JONES CLINGS TO LEAD IN BRITISH GOLF

CITY WILL PAY LIGHTING BILL AT BALLPARK

Council Willing to Assist Night Sport; Treasurer Colver's Report Filed

Recognizing the advertising value of the Santa Ana Night Baseball league and especially the city's all-star team, which has been treating the fans to plenty of thrills at Lincoln park this season, the city council today agreed to give much-needed financial assistance to the league in return for the publicity it is bringing the city.

Otto Jacobs, president of the Santa Ana Night Baseball association, appeared before the city council and requested that the city take care of the electric lighting bill for the games during the remainder of the season. The cost, according to Jacobs, will not amount to more than $100 for the remaining eight weeks of the season, and the council consented to pay the bill.

Jacobs pointed out the fact that the league has developed through its own efforts from an unknown organization to one which tops the list in Orange county, that it has built its own bleachers and surrounded the Lincoln school diamond with a fence besides purchasing its own equipment, but asserted that the 10-cent admission charge is not quite sufficient to defray current expenses. In explaining why the fee is to be increased, Jacobs said that a raise would reduce the crowds materially, preventing especially the younger boys from attending the games.

For the benefit of members of the night baseball fraternity, Dean B. Colver, treasurer of the association, today filed his statement for the first half of the season, closing July 8.

The sport is operated here on a purely co-operative basis, none of the officers being paid, and the association is endeavoring to offer high class baseball at a nominal cost and at the same time to lay aside the "nest-egg," for which eventually, it is hoped, will be a sum large enough to acquire permanent playing grounds.

Colver's report disclosed that the league is having its troubles getting "on its feet" financially. There have been several games at which the attendance was large but for the most part the turnout has been disappointing, cold weather being held responsible.

The treasurer's statement follows in part:

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE:

By Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-26.

The first explorers of Australia found a wild and rocky land, full of strange animals and savage people. Discoverers thought white men never could live there. The picture above shows the kind of country that frightened Australia's early visitors. The region was described as "treacherous shoals and deadly coasts."

One of the first discoverers of Australia's splendor was a farm laborer's son, James Cook, who was born in 1728.

The boy ran away from his British home and took to the sea. He won his way to a position in the navy and explored Newfoundland.

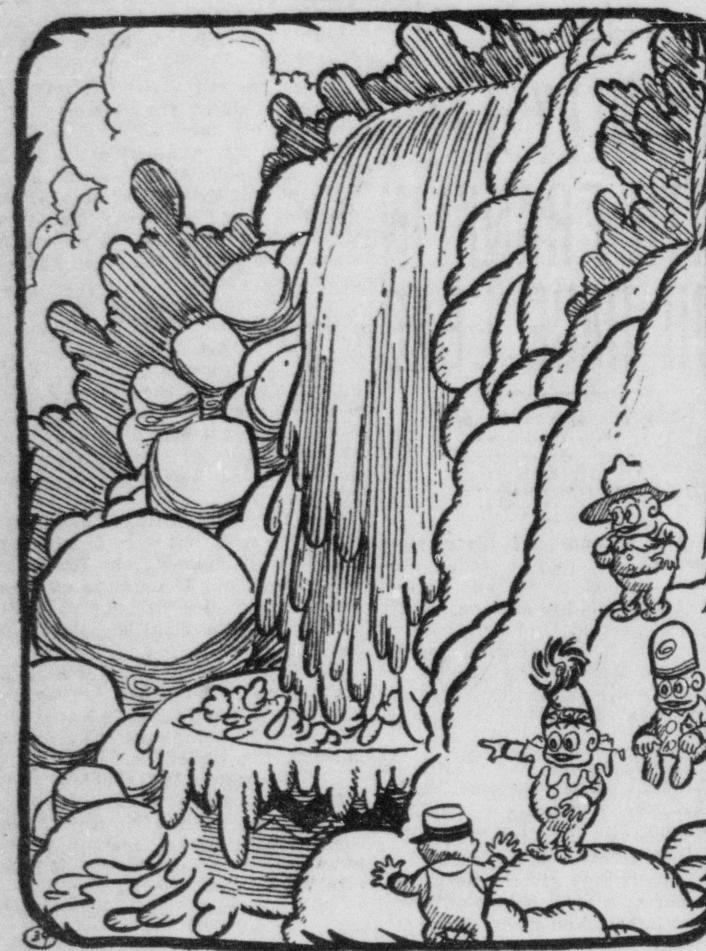

In 1768 Captain Cook was placed in charge of an expedition to Tahiti for the purpose of observing the transit of Venus in 1769. On the way home Cook charted New Zealand and sailed along the east coast of Australia. He found it a smiling land, fair and beautiful, and named the country New South Wales.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The little Princess cried, "Don't run! The popcorn storm is all in fun. They are much too soft and small. Don't hide beneath that spreading tree. It's safe out here as it can be. When there's enough upon the ground, I'll stop the popcorn fall."

The Tinies watched her for a spell and then she heard wee Clown yell, "I think that we'll stay where we are until the shower is through. Excuse us if we make a fuss, but you are bigger, far, than us. We fear the corn might hurt us though it doesn't bother you."

The Princess answered, "Oh, all right. Just wait. I'll try with all my might to make the storm of popcorn stop. You're funny little men." And then she shouted, rather rough, "Oh, popcorn—stop! We've had enough!" And very soon the storm was over, and it was clear again.

Out rushed the Tinies from the tree, exclaiming, in one voice, "Oh ge! Just watch us eat our fullest fill of popcorn from the ground." "There's plenty here," the Princess said, "for all of you. Go right ahead." The Tinies were surprised to see how much good corn was found.

When they had eaten quite a lot, more than they should, as like as not, the Princess shouted, "Follow me, and do not be afraid. I'll take you now to Syrup Falls. I wish you all had ovaries, for you could help the man who knows how popcorn crisp is made."

It wasn't long till they were there. The scene they saw was truly rare. A wall of rocks towered over head. It was a wondrous place. And, in between the rocks of stone, they heard a rushing liquid groan. A brownish sea of syrup foamed and dropped down into space.

(The Tinies help shovel popcorn into boxes in the next story.)

HOW OLD? The old question concerning at which age a woman is most beautiful is varied a little by Paul Poiret, master designer, who asks and answers the question of at which age a woman is most interesting from a costumer's viewpoint. When she is past 35 is his answer. He explains that most any young woman can wear most any garment, but that acre must be given the clothes for the older woman in order that her best points may be revealed, and her poorer ones camouflaged. What specimens of vanity we humans are! Asking always for the hard job just to show that we can really do something not too obviously easy!

TOMBSTONE LADY I read of Mrs. Bessie T. Redman of Seattle, who has a large and profitable business in tombstones. She not only sells them, but designs them too. Once upon a time that would have seemed more surprising than today. We have become so accustomed to successful women steeplejacks, stokers, preachers, tombstone designers, plumbers, blasters, and what nots that nothing surprises us any more.

HOO HUM! Are you looking forward to the day when all necessary work can be done in two or three hours? Someone breaks forth thus in a current periodical—"What a blessed relief if there were no furnaces to stoke, no more cooking to be done, and only 3 or 4 hours of work a day necessary to keep the wheels of civilization in motion! This relief is coming!"

Yes, and then what'll we all do? Such supposedly optimistic prophecies always leave me a little bit cold, for I am so sure that such a millennium would need to be prefaced by another of leisure with which folks could prepare for that later millennium when their work could be done in two hours a day. ### CLEAR YOUR SKIN

One young girl who came to me with a blotchy skin was given a good complexion in this way. I made her take a boiled egg, two slices of buttered toast and only one cup of coffee for breakfast; for lunch, a large salad of lettuce leaves, and mixed fruits or mixed vegetables (but not potatoes) with either French dressing or mayonnaise, and a cup of hot chocolate. For dinner, a thin soup, a very little bit of chicken or beef, and a large dish of mixed boiled vegetables, with a little mayonnaise on them to make the dish more palatable. Spinach and carrots predominated, but beets, peas, string beans, and cauliflower were included. For dessert, ice cream, or half a cantaloupe.

This diet went on for two weeks. She also drank a glass of hot water before breakfast, and a glass of cool water between meals and before bedtime. With lunch and dinner, she had a couple of crackers or a slice of whole wheat bread. Bedtime, she cleansed the skin with cold cream, washed this off with warm water and castile soap, rinsed with cold water and in the morning, rinsed the face with very cold water. And that was all, and you should have seen her nice clear skin at the end of two weeks!

What I did was simply to make her clear her system of various poisons existing there, mostly by taking away starch from her diet.

M. K.—If you follow up the talks on diet you will find a way to get rid of this tendency to pimples all the time. Try dusting flour of sulphur on those that come to a head, but correct the cause which lies in the system. At 18 years of age with height of five feet, four inches, your weight should be about 110 to 115 pounds.

Grateful—There is no reason to fear future trouble after having your teeth straightened now, as the method of doing this work has improved since your friend had her work done.

NEWS FROM ORANGE COUNTY TOWNS

OIL FIRM ASKS PERMISSION TO LAY GAS LINE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 14.—Whether the Southern Counties Gas company has the exclusive right to lay dry gas mains in the city of Huntington Beach under contract, or whether the right is not exclusive, as provided in an ordinance, passed by the city board of trustees following the granting of a franchise to the Southern Counties Gas company, will be threshed out at a special meeting of the trustees next Monday night.

The meeting was ordered called late yesterday when a representative of the Standard Oil company interviewed three of the board members and the city engineer and city attorney regarding the possibility of laying a gas main in Block 11.

It was called to the attention of the city authorities that the ordinance did not provide for an exclusive franchise, but that a contract held by the Southern Counties Gas company called for such an exclusive right.

The meeting Monday night is expected to result in a definite decision being reached as to whether the contract held by the gas company shall hold as is or whether the ordinance shall be adhered to and a permit granted other applicants to lay gas lines.

Beach City Seeks New Mail Schedule

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 14.—Further communication with the Pacific Electric railway will be necessary to obtain a satisfactory mail dispatch service, it was disclosed today following the receipt of a letter from Thomas Spaulding, acting chief clerk of the railway mail service. The communication, sent to L. C. Denslow, secretary of the chamber of commerce, was in answer to a query as to what arrangements could be made so that a dispatch of mail could be made from Huntington Beach about 6 p.m. each day.

That a change in schedule to permit mail to be dispatched out of Huntington Beach at 6:08 p.m. be asked of the Pacific Electric railway was the suggestion of Spaulding. The matter will undoubtedly be considered at the next chamber meeting with the likelihood that a resolution will be drafted and sent to the railway company explaining the desires of the community.

The present train schedule, of 5:45 p.m., is declared to be too early for a final dispatch of mails and a later train after 7 p.m. is declared by the postal authorities of the local office to be too late.

'Kissing Bug' Poisons Cafe Owner

BUENA PARK, July 14.—Stung on the abdomen by a small black insect commonly known as a "kissing bug," Jack Golden, prominent Buena Park man, who was seriously ill from the effects of the bite for the past two weeks was today declared to be out of danger.

Golden was at work in a cafe here which he plans to open in the near future, when the bug stung him. He paid no attention to the bite until it began to pain him and the infection rapidly spread. His entire system has been poisoned as a result of the sting, according to the attending physicians.

LAGUNA BEACH P. O. RECEIPTS SHOW INCREASE

LAGUNA BEACH, July 14.—Word was received from Washington this week that the Yoch company has been awarded the contract for furnishing quarters for the Laguna Beach post office for a long term of years. The present store room in the Yoch building will be enlarged to give the required 1500 feet of floor space, thus assuring the keeping of the post office at its present location. Combined with this announcement is a report from Postmaster Brayton S. Norton that the Laguna Beach post office showed a gain of 15 per cent for the quarter ending June 30 over the corresponding quarter of 1926. The gain for the month of May over 1926 was 15.6 per cent.

Postmaster Norton showed that Atlanta, Ga., with 17.75 per cent, was the only city out of a list of 50 selected for the Postmaster's Gazette, to show a better gain than Laguna Beach. Out of 50 selected industrial cities, seven showed a bigger gain than Laguna Beach.

In this connection it is interesting to note that many cities showed a decrease in May, 1927, over May, 1926.

"The figures show a steady increase in the growth of Laguna Beach," said Mr. Norton.

The addition to the present post office building will have an offset on one side in order to give the required room. The side toward the hills will be continued straight on the alley, but the line on the ocean side will run at an angle part of the way.

The Washington dispatch did not mention any other bid, although it is understood that one was sent in from owners on Forest avenue.

The new post office will have the very latest steel equipment. There will be a total of 850 lock boxes, a large number for a city like Laguna Beach, but made necessary because there is no house delivery.

There will be 300 new boxes. The new office will have three windows instead of two. The partitions will be of steel construction.

The post office now is of the second class. The hours will be from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The Yoch company has 90 days to complete the new office, but work probably will not begin until September. The contract was awarded through Charles L. Trotter, acting first assistant postmaster general.

WILDCAT WELL NORTH OF H. B. IS SCHEDULED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 14.—

Another wildcatting project is under way for the district northwest of the Huntington Beach field, according to reports. The identity of the wildcatters has not been disclosed officially, but it is known that the project is being financed by a real estate syndicate, which owns about 30 acres, two miles northwest of the Buck wells of the California Petroleum corporation, and not far from the locality where the General Petroleum corporation recently drilled and abandoned its Lomita No. 1.

Oil men in general do not place much faith in the possibility of oil in this particular locality, due to the fact that four deep wells have been put down in this area, without success. The nearest producing wells are on the Buck ranch, two miles distant. These wells, belonging to the California Petroleum corporation give evidence of being near the edge of the structure, and as a matter of fact are a considerable distance from any other production.

Speeders Fined In Beach City Court

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 14.—J. W. Lyle, of Manhattan Beach, is languishing in the city jail today while he makes up his mind whether he will pay a $25 fine for intoxication, imposed in Recorder Chris P. Fann's court yesterday, or spend 25 days in jail.

Others to appear before Judge Penn within the past two days to pay fines on traffic violation charges include Charles F. Ray, of San Diego, who paid $20 for speeding 35 miles in a 20-mile zone; Ben C. Herschfeld, of Hollywood, who contributed $10 for passing traffic on the right; Maurits Van Haafft, of Los Angeles, who paid $10 for a 20 mile speed in a 15-mile zone, and G. L. Ingles, of Los Angeles, who paid $5 for turning in the center of a block.

CORONA DEL MAR

CORONA DEL MAR, July 14.—Clifton J. Platt gave a dinner party to 50 friends at the Balboa Palisades club last Saturday evening, followed by bridge and dancing. The Platts, whose home is in Pasadena, are spending the summer here.

Another happy event at the club on the same evening was a sorority party, that of the Kappa Delta Rho, composed of young people from many different colleges, high schools and other institutions of learning in Southern California. A dinner dance was followed by a midnight sandwich lunch on the beach.

Mrs. Roy Updike and Mrs. Harry Alger are spending the week in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Ed. Rogers and daughter, Mrs. H. F. Hamilton, and Miss Edna Bandeka, of Pasadena, are stopping for a month at the Palisades club.

Mrs. H. T. Bryant, of Hollywood, spent from Friday to Sunday evening with Mrs. Edith Watrous, being joined on Sunday by her husband. Week-end guests at the Watrous home were Carl Watrous, of Placentia; Miss Betty Jones, of Los Angeles; Miss Betty Butcher, of Balboa Island, and Miss Charlotte DeVoy, of Los Angeles.

LAGUNA BEACH TRUSTEES PREPARE TO ANNEX AREA; RESIDENTS FAVOR ACTION

LAGUNA BEACH, July 14.—Trustee Champion last night presented a petition to the board asking that the unincorporated district be allowed to become a part of the city of Laguna Beach. The petition was signed by a majority of the voters living in the district.

Trustee Champion's motion to have the City Attorney Hoegstedt prepare the annexation proceedings at once was seconded by Trustees Bruckles and carried unanimously. This settles the controversy which raged at the time of the election for incorporation as to whether or not large tracts of land not included within the newly incorporated city would come in later.

Trustee Bruckles, who is fire commissioner, made a report that the volunteer fire department was anxious and willing to become the city fire department. Fire Chief Endres, Claude Rice and Frank McLaughlin were present from the fire department to present their case.

The offer was not accepted as the law does not allow a fire company to make a run to a fire outside the incorporated district and persons living in the outside district have been as much responsible for securing the equipment for the fire company as any one else.

President Cummings said: "I understand that if the fire company goes to the aid of people living outside the city limits and a building burns in the city while the fire department is so acting, that a suit for damages can be brought against the city. I do not think we should take over the fire department until the annexation proceedings have been completed."

A special meeting has been called for July 27 to talk over with Frank Browne the naming and numbering of streets. Mr. Browne, who was appointed by the chamber of commerce for this work, has been over a year preparing data.

W. W. Chandler, chief sanitary inspector of Orange county, asked that the city take over the two sanitary districts, but no action was taken. Mr. Chandler also offered the city the service of the health department of Orange county.

Those present were Trustees Cummings, Jahraus, Champion, Bruckles and Johnston. The meeting adjourned until Friday at 3 p.m.

EVENING SALUTATION

Whenever I have found out that I have blundered, or that my work has been imperfect, and when I have been contemptuously criticized, and even when I have been over-praised, so that I have felt mortified, it has been my greatest comfort to say hundreds of times to myself that "I have worked as hard and as well as I could, and no man can do more than this."—Darwin.

THE OPEN ROAD TO HARMONY

The board of supervisors, by vote of three members, has decided upon another plan for the distribution of the automobile license and gas tax money received from the state. It proposes now to keep the money in one fund and spend it on the vote of three supervisors.

Ten days ago these same supervisors, by a vote of three, upset the system that has been in use for some years past. That system was to divide $100,000 of the auto-gas fund into five parts, each supervisor being allowed the right to designate where his share should be expended. Ten days ago, by a vote of three, it was ordered that the fund be divided into four parts instead of five. It was declared that Supervisor S. H. Finley, representing the first district, should have no voice in the expenditure, because he has no county roads in his district.

The unfairness of the division was such that Supervisor Willard Smith of Orange could not vote for it, though he would have had more money at his command by this plan than he would have had had the division been in five parts as hitherto. Smith, representing the fourth district, had the opportunity at the time to register his protest against the proposal. Tustin people, who lately had been given a large sum by Supervisor Finley to help in paying for the East First paving, also could see the unfairness of the new method. Those who have been counting on aid from Supervisor Finley for opening South Main direct to the coast and opening Century boulevard also were impressed with the idea that the move was not a wise one.

We do not know what processes of thought brought about the change of plan. At any rate, by the vote of three, Tuesday, the board decided to retreat from its plan to divide the fund into four parts, and by vote of three it was decided that the money would all be put into one fund and be spent by vote of three or more. In this way, it was declared, every supervisor would have a vote on every expenditure, as they feel, the law contemplates.

Although Supervisor Smith's district may be justified in seeing in this a move to reduce the expenditures that may be made in his district—a division, in effect, of the fund into three parts instead of four—we will grant that the board of supervisors, as represented by a vote of three, is sincerely endeavoring to get the auto license fund into such a shape that it can be spent fairly and harmoniously. There has been a deal of talk recently about re-establishment of harmony. Orange county has many problems to solve, one of them—water—being the most important in the history of the county. There is not a supervisor of the five who does not see breakers ahead if the rift continues to widen. There ought to be some avenue open to lead to harmony.

Supervisors Schumacher, Mitchell and Jeffrey, we are informed, believe that by putting the fund up at each expenditure to the vote of the entire board, with the decision resting with the majority, the money can be expended fairly, and, in the end, harmoniously because fairly.

The word "fairly" is the big item in the "vote of three" decision. We might ask a few questions: Can harmony ever be sought fairly until the South Main street property owners of Santa Ana are allowed to have, without further litigation, $10,000 promised them by a former board of supervisors?

Will harmony be promoted if, by vote of three, the expenditure of $65,000 used out of the auto license fund of last year for paving Santa Ana canyon road (certainly a road that is of great importance to every district in the county) is offset by the distribution of $65,000 from some other source to the three districts represented by Schumacher, Mitchell and Jeffrey?

Will harmony be promoted or possible if, by vote of three, the funds of the county, whether auto license or general fund, are expended in unfair proportion? That is, if the vote of three shows the three anxious to be fair to themselves first and the rest of the county, representing fifty per cent of the population, afterward.

However, the decision has been reached, and we are perfectly willing to stop the argument and give the plan a trial. It looks to us that the five supervisors ought to be able to sit down at a table, and settle upon a budget for road expenditures for the coming year. If there is to be harmony, it must be an agreement entered into above board, not in secret session of three. Such an agreement can be reached, provided each supervisor goes into the conference with the intention of being as fair to the others as he wants them to be to him.

And that is the open avenue to harmony.

TELLING TIME BY INSTINCT

There is an occasional musician who has an "absolute sense of pitch," so that he can tell any note struck on a musical instrument with unfailing precision. That power is said to be possessed by perhaps one person in a million.

There is a man in London who seems to have an absolute sense of time. He is Bill Jenney, who has taken care of about 1,000 clocks for the Hotel Savoy for 32 years. In a series of tests he has proved his ability to tell what time it is at any moment of the day or night, within one minute. His greatest error was 45 seconds.

One person in half a million is said to have "an acute time sense." Such ability, however, is probably more widely distributed than people suppose. Everyone has some sense of time, and its perception differs only in degree.

People who live indoors and depend altogether on watches and clocks are likely to lose any special gift along that line. People who live outdoors often develop the gift. A farmer may know what time it is within ten or fifteen minutes, no matter where he is or what he is doing, and thus find a watch superfluous. He may tell time by the sun, or by his stomach, or by appearances in general. The process, whatever it is, is usually unconscious. Almost anyone can cultivate this sense to a high degree of accuracy by practising for a few days or weeks on the development of time consciousness.

That would be a fine thing for a lot of people who constantly break engagements because they "didn't realize what time it was."

KEEPING THE RECORD STRAIGHT

A few days ago, in an editorial inquiry as to the cause of high taxes, The Register quoted an editorial from the Redlands Facts, a leaflet issued by the Los Angeles Tax-Payers League and a letter from a citizen of Santa Ana.

The letter told about what the writer had seen "out on the desert," where he owns a ranch, in the way of loafing on their jobs by employees of the State Highway commission.

It seems that at least some of the employees of the County Highway department understood the reference of this letter to be to employees of the County Highway department. Such understanding is wholly in error, as no reference whatever was made to either the County Highway department employees or to any road work in Orange county.

So far as we know, the employees of the County Highway department do an honest day's work for an honest day's pay; and we believe the same may truthfully be said of the State Highway commission employees, as a class and on the average. This point was not directly under discussion, but was raised incidentally by way of illustration.

"I Averaged Forty"

San Diego Union

The crash which ended the attempt to set up a new automobile speed record between Chicago and Los Angeles, will, it is to be hoped, put a stop to similar ventures for some time to come. The automobile association which backed the unfortunate affair ought to be put out of business, and the public should be thankful that only the participants in the race, not some innocent bystander—as is so often the case—were victims of the tragedy which ended it. The sport of auto racing has its devotees, and we have no quarrel with them; but the place for a speed trial is on the track, not on the public highways.

The time has gone by when speed records on the highway were of use in the development of the automobile, or in the development of the highway. There is, in fact, every reason to put the emphasis in the opposite direction now, as far as travel on the open road is concerned.

The highways are for the use of the public which pays their upkeep, and there is no justification for crowding traffic off the roads to make way for foolhardy speed fiends, bent on setting up records which no longer have any significance. If the emphasis could be put on easy travel, enjoyable and profitable touring, rather than speed, the entire motoring public would benefit by it.

We all miss much of the fun of motoring because we are so insistent upon making our motor trips as fast as possible. Instead of going out to have a good time, we go out intent on making fast time; and while this is dangerous, it is also much worse than that—it is stupid.

Low Dam Opposed

Riverside Press

Much concern is felt in California by supporters of the Boulder dam legislation because of the declaration of Congressman Tilson of Connecticut, floor leader of the house, in favor of a low dam. His utterance is most surprising in view of the thorough discussion of this issue in congress, including the matter of a market for power, and the uniform support given the high dam by all government engineers, by Secretary Work, Secretary Hoover and President Coolidge. Mr. Tilson seems to be about 10 years behind the times on this matter; but his position in congress is such that he may make a lot of trouble.

His statement brought out the following reply from William Mulholland, veteran engineer of Los Angeles, and recognized authority on the question: "Without a high dam at Boulder canyon there can be no Colorado river aqueduct built. Los Angeles and neighboring cities cannot put $150,000,000 or more into an aqueduct without an assured constant supply of water in it."

"A low dam, without large storage and to be emptied regularly to receive the next flood, would store no water available for our cities. We cannot start on the aqueduct until construction of a high dam is assured."

Losses Big From Recklessness

Pasadena Star-News

Several serious blazes were started in California, over the Fourth of July holiday, by persons recklessly misusing fire. This occurred in face of repeated warnings and urgings. It seems that there is an element among the population of the state, bent upon being careless with fire, regardless of laws, warnings and the obvious dangers of a reckless course with flames, or with lighted matches or cigarette stubs.

Rigorous laws and regulations exist in state and national forests and in fields and along highways of the state, governing the use of fire, particularly during the dry season. For years intensive campaigns of education and moral suasion have been conducted through the newspapers and otherwise, to induce those inclined to be reckless with fire to desist from their recklessness. Some have adopted the careful course. But others persist in disregarding public safety and the public welfare and mishandle fire whenever they are in open places. For this latter class there is but one proper course—that is, when their guilt is established, to punish them severely. The offense is serious. The punishment should be made to fit the offense.

Will harmony be promoted or possible if, by vote of three, the funds of the county, whether auto license or general fund, are expended in unfair proportion? That is, if the vote of three shows the three anxious to be fair to themselves first and the rest of the county, representing fifty per cent of the population, afterward.

However, the decision has been reached, and we are perfectly willing to stop the argument and give the plan a trial. ## HOW TO PAY FOR PRESENT SERVICE AND FUTURE NEEDS.

Is the American business man a boob?

Two distinguished Baltimoreans seem to think he is—at least they say right out loud that the American business man is a boob.

One of them is H. L. Mencken, and he thinks the American business man has not permitted Mr. Mencken to do all of his thinking for him. That opinion may be dismissed as a piece of smart-aleckery from Baltimore's bad boy.

The other is Frank R. Kent, and his indictment of the American business man as a boob is more serious, because he states his reasons and marshals his evidence. Mr. Kent in "Nation's Business" sums the thing up by saying that the average business man is rather proud of saying, "No, I take no interest in politics," and then wondering why it is so difficult to dislodge political inefficiency by business-like methods at the city hall.

The plain truth is that the politicians have got his goat. He is buffaloed. He is afraid to get mixed up. He has got it into his head that there is some deep, dark mystery about municipal affairs and he is scared of the dark.

That is the reason we hear him say: "Well, what can you expect? The politicians are all crooked and they run the town. We can't do anything."

That is the reason we hear him ask: "What's the use?"

And, in my opinion, when in any city the business men and the business women and the average citizen get into the state of mind where they ask that question, "What's the use?" then that city is in a very bad way.

A great gang politician in Chicago, wise and able, thoroughly unscrupulous and knowing exactly where he stands, said to Frank Kent, in effect: "The city is the biggest business in Chicago measured in terms of money, of people employed, of importance. Yet the business element lets us politicians run it to suit ourselves and to our own profit. Why, why, why do they let us do it?"

The gang politicians operate the city governments for their own benefit known quite well what they are about, and there is but one thing in the world that they are frightened of, and that is that the business leaders of the community will arise and take a continuing interest in their own affairs. The occasional rebelling of the better element alarms them, of course, but they usually feel that after such an outburst the business leadership will go back to sleep and leave the gang in control. What they really are afraid of is the continuous interest in city affairs on the part of the business man. They know that he has many dollars at stake, and they, the gang politicians, are afraid, that sometimes he will find out that he can make money by watching how those tax dollars are spent.

It is true that in many cities the business men on the budget committee of the community chest have found it difficult to measure the needs of the several agencies for expansion to meet growing calls for service, and sometimes have seemed to the social workers quite deaf to pleas for the necessity of initiating new branches of service.

But on the whole they have materially advanced the social as well as the financial status of the welfare organizations, and they have demonstrated that they can watch a public dollar and can measure how much of it comes back to the community in the form of service.

So also have they done in many cities with respect to the city government. Mr. Kent, in the article I have referred to, gives an account of the remarkable results of the business man's efforts in improving the efficiency of the Baltimore city government. This achievement has been watched in many cities, especially when for one reason or another the city itself has established a system of accounting and accounting publicity that has permitted the whole town to know what was going on in a financial way.

Because he is in most cities still asleep at the switch, Frank Kent says the American business man is a boob.

I don't agree. I think that he has been lulled to sleep by a false theory that there is a mystery of a peculiar craft in politics. He is finding out that isn't so. He is waking up. He is more and more to be found with an eye on the tax dollar.
